The Bowl Consortium

Since 1990, college football has worked to develop a pair of bowl game consortiums, trying to guarantee the best possible matchups for the post-season bowls.

This is the third year of a three-year agreement in effect among several entities. Here's a look at the particulars of the agreement:

Consortium I: Orange Bowl (Big 8 champion vs. At-Large*)
Sugar Bowl (SEC champion vs. At-Large*)
Cotton Bowl (SWC champion vs. At-Large*)
Fiesta Bowl (At-Large* vs. At-Large*)

*—A pool of five teams make up the "At-Large" participants for Consortium I. They are the champions of the ACC and the Big East, along with Notre Dame and two other teams from the Big 8, ACC, SWC, Big East or Pac-10.

Consortium II: Gator Bowl, John Hancock Bowl.

For three second teams of the Big 8, ACC, SWC, Big East or Pac-10 conferences not selected for the Consortium I at-large pool. The John Hancock Bowl will make two picks of Coalition teams.

Notes: If the top two ranked teams come from among Notre Dame and the ACC and Big East champions, they will play in the Fiesta Bowl. Otherwise, the ACC and Big East champions are guaranteed a bid in the Cotton, Sugar or Orange bowls. The Fiesta would then choose from the remaining at-large pool teams. The three teams not selected for the Consortium I at-large pool will belong to the Consortium II bowls. There are financial hardship clauses within the agreement, as well as provisions not to have any rematches of teams that met earlier in the season.

Conference Bowl Agreements: Here's a look at where conference teams are contractually bound to play in the postseason (*—denotes the six-bowl coalition):

Atlantic Coast: Champion (Orange, Sugar or Cotton), Second Team (*Coalition), Third Team (Peach), Fourth Team (Hall-of-Fame)

Big East: Champion (Orange, Sugar or Cotton), Second Team (*Coalition), Third Team (Sunshine)

Big Eight: Champion (Orange), Second Team (*Coalition), Third Team (Aloha), Fourth Team (Copper)

Big Ten: Champion (Rose), Second Team (Citrus), Third Team (Holiday), Fourth Team (Hall-of-Fame)

Pac Ten: Champion (Rose), Second Team (*Coalition), Third Team (Freedom), Fourth Team (Alamo)

Southeastern: Champion (Sugar), Second Team (Citrus), Third Team (Gator), Fourth Team (Peach), Fifth Team (Sunshine)

Southwest: Champion (Cotton), Second Team (*Coalition), Third Team (Alamo)

Western Athletic: Champion (Holiday), Second Team (Aloha or Copper), Third Team (Copper, if Aloha selects second team)

The champions of the Big West and Mid-America conferences meet in the Las Vegas Bowl. The only bowl with no contractual obligation to any team or conference is the Independence; bowls with one opening for any at-large team are the Freedom, Liberty and the Aloha, if the latter passes on the second Western Athletic Conference team. The Liberty Bowl is contracted to take Air Force, Army or Navy if one is the winner of the Commander-in-Chief Trophy and has at least seven wins; otherwise, the Liberty will select two at-large teams.

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Recognized as the leading comprehensive research university in the Rocky Mountain region, the University of Colorado combines a diverse student body with a distinguished faculty to create a lively and refreshing academic environment.

Located at the base of the rugged and beautiful Rocky Mountains, the University of Colorado campus and its distinctive architecture attract students from all over the world. The main campus in Boulder is just 25 miles from Denver and has students representing every state in the union and 70 foreign countries. The enrollment on the Boulder campus is just over 25,000, with an additional 13,000 students studying at the Health Sciences Center (Denver) and at campuses located in Denver and Colorado Springs.

The University of Colorado is composed of five colleges and five professional schools, offering more than 4,000 courses in 140 fields of study. The colleges are Arts and Sciences, Business and Administration, Engineering and Applied Science, Environmental Design and Music; the schools are Graduate, Graduate School of Business, Education, Journalism and Law.

Authorized by an act of legislation in 1861 and opened on September 5, 1877, the university has played a key role in the development of the state and the Rocky Mountain region. The university itself is governed by an independent board of nine elected regents, the President, and the Faculty Senate.

In keeping with its cosmopolitan atmosphere and the sense of responsibility to the community, the university provides facilities and sponsorship for a broad range of student activities. The 786-acre campus includes 220 buildings. Principal campus facilities include the four million volumes of Norlin Library, the Academic Computing Services, the University Museum, the dance studios, numerous research institutions and specialized laboratory facilities, and the Fiske Planetarium, one of the finest planetarium facilities in the world.

In recent studies, CU ranked No. 1 in the nation in productivity as measured by research and development expenditures per faculty member and ranked 11th among public U.S. universities and 20th overall in federally funded research. CU-Boulder has played a major role in the NASA space program, designing and building instruments that have flown on several missions into outer space. Among the many prestigious members of the CU faculty is Thomas Cech, winner of the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry.

The University of Colorado at Boulder's scenic location is ideal for participation in numerous recreational and sports activities. In addition to the intercollegiate programs in the Big Eight Conference for men and women, Colorado offers over 30 club and 27 intramural sports that involve the majority of the student body. The on-campus Recreation Center is one of the finest college facilities in the country and provides services such as an Olympic-size swimming pool, an indoor glass-enclosed ice skating rink, basketball courts, indoor running track, handball, racquetball, and tennis courts along with sauna and weight rooms.

With an impressive set of facilities and high academic standards, the University of Colorado aims to provide a challenging and integrated education for its students. Through a wide variety of plays, exhibits, concerts, films, workshops, and lectures the university supplements the rigors of academia with the challenges of the real world. In this way, the University of Colorado provides a well-rounded and diverse educational opportunity for all types and interests of students.

THE DAL WARD ATHLETIC CENTER

The 1990-91 athletic season is landmark for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced national championships in football (its first) and skiing (its 14th), and the men's basketball team reached the NIT Final Four.

That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality. The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December, 1990, to completion the following August.

The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. This multi-functional, state-of-the-art structure is one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics.

The Dal Ward Center boasts 92,000 square feet that includes a massive academic center, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and daily dining area, an auditorium, men's and women's lockerrooms, a player's lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November, 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February, 1991. The structure was available for the football team's use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, which made him the third-winningest coach in CU history at the time. His teams, noted for the single wing offense, were a constant threat to Oklahoma's supremacy in the Big Seven Conference.

The Nicholas R. Petry Auditorium

The facility has several outstanding attributes, which benefit both the athletic department and the entire CU—Boulder campus. The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italianate architecture were selected to compliment the style of the Boulder campus. The Center also establishes a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two-story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase.

The Dal Ward Center allows CU athletics to provide a facility that is competitive with equivalent successful NCAA athletic programs. "We have built something that will truly give our athletes a chance to compete with the best," athletic director Bill Marolt said. "This is a modern, updated facility where we can accommodate the needs of the athletes on and off the field," added football coach Bill McCartney.

The building was designed by the architectural firm of Sink Combs Dethlefs of Denver, with construction performed by Gerald H. Phipps, Inc.

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has the most unique mascot in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie. The live buffalo mascot, actually "Ralphie III," has continued the tradition of leading the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half.

It is truly one of the special sights that exists anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver and Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, some students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf mascot along with a real cowboy as his keeper. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The campus newspaper announced the contest in the fall of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted Buffaloes as their entry. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Bufs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

The first buffalo, "Mr. Chips," was eventually given to the University by Mahlon White. The buffalo was a regular at CU home games through the 1950's and was cared for by a men's honorary.

The CU football teams were without a mascot for several years before the original Ralphie made its first appearance at a CU function in 1966 (and as a six-month-old calf). For awhile, she was billed as Ralph, the name given by the student body. An astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a girl, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including bowl games), and retired at the end of the 1978 season.

Ralphie's replacement on the sidelines was Ralphie II, making her first-ever appearance at CU's final home game of the 1978 season. The buffalo's original name was Moon, short for Moonshine, but the name Ralphie had become so popular and traditional that it was restored. The Bank of Boulder, a significant contributor through the years to the Ralphie program, purchased and donated Ralphie II to CU. At the age of 12, and after serving the Buffs for 10 years, Ralphie II passed away on Sept. 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Colorado's latest mascot, Ralphie III, was pressed into action earlier than anticipated. She was being trained for the 1988 season as Ralphie II was to retire following the 1987 campaign. But Ralphie III, after only five weeks of training, made her debut, Nov. 7, 1987, at the CU-Missouri game. And like the original Ralphie, the Buffs welcomed her with a 27-10 victory.

Ralphie III is a nine-year-old buffalo, weighing about 1,300 pounds and is able to reach speeds of up to 25 miles per hour. An orphan, she was donated to the athletic department by John and Shaaron Parker, and is kept at the Parker Ranch (which was also the home of Ralphie II).

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents consists of nine members, serving staggered six-year terms, one each elected from the state's six congressional districts and three from the state at large. The members select their own chairman and vice chairman, and operate without any pay. Serving as chairman for the 1993-94 academic year is Guy Kelley, with Norwood Robb as the vice chair. Millie Caraballo serves as Secretary of the University and the Board of Regents.

The Board governs all four campuses of the University of Colorado. It is charged constitutionally with the general supervision of the University and the exclusive control and direction of all funds of and appropriations to the University, unless otherwise provided by law.

A quick look at the nine current members of the Board of Regents:

elected to a statewide seat on the Board in 1992 for a six-year term, which expires in 1998.

HARVEY W. PHELPS, M.D.—Democrat, Pueblo physician; received a B.S. degree in 1946 from Idaho State and an M.D. degree in 1949 from St. Louis University School of Medicine; retired U.S. Army Medical Corps; served in the Colorado Senate 1977-85. DAVID W. WINN—Republican, Colorado Springs, retired U.S. Air Force General; received a B.A. degree from the University of Minnesota in 1958 and an M.S. in international relations from George Washington University in 1967. He was elected to the Board in 1988 from Congressional District 5 for a six-year term, which will expire in 1994.

PRESIDENT JUDITH ALBINO

Dr. Judith E.N. Albino was named President of the University of Colorado on June 1, 1991, replacing Dr. William Baughn, who served as the four-campus system's president the previous year after the departure of Dr. Gordon Gee to Ohio State. Albino is the 17th president of CU and is the first woman to serve in the position.

Albino, 51, came to CU in 1990 as Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research, and Dean of the System Graduate School. She joined the university from the State University of New York (SUNY) at Buffalo, where she enjoyed an 18-year career.

She serves as chief executive officer of the four-campus organization, with three general campuses located in Boulder, Colorado Springs and Denver, and the Health Sciences Center (also in Denver). The University of Colorado is a public, comprehensive, doctoral degree-granting institution with a combined enrollment of over 43,000 students, a faculty and staff of 19,250 and an annual budget of $1 billion.

A graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, Albino earned a bachelor's degree in journalism in 1967 and a Ph.D. in education psychology in 1973. She joined SUNY-Buffalo in 1972 as a faculty member for the School of Dental Medicine. In 1978, her responsibilities included supervision of graduate students and administrative duties for the Department of Counseling and Psychology. She was appointed Associate Provost in 1984 and Interim Dean of the School of Architecture and Planning in 1987. She became Dean of the Graduate School in 1989.

For a time as Associate Provost at SUNY-Buffalo, she was responsible for the department of athletics, and directed the effort to upgrade Buffalo's 16 intercollegiate sports from Division III to Division I status in the NCAA. That transformation was complete last fall, as the school was granted Division I membership in all sports except football (which will do so in 1993).

Dr. Albino is currently a member of the NCAA Gender Equity Task Force, and is co-chair of the NCAA President's Commission Subcommittee on Gender Equity.

She served as a Fellow in Higher Education Administration for the American Council on Education in 1983-84. She also was named a Fellow for the World Health Organization Collaborating Center for Research on Health in Housing for 1988-90. She has also written numerous scholarly articles and monographs in her areas of specialty, dentistry and psychology.

Albino is a member-at-large on the board of directors for the American Association of Dental Research and served as president of the AADR Behavioral Sciences Group in 1983-84. She currently is treasurer and a member of the board of directors of the American Psychological Association.

Her first role at CU as vice president was as the chief academic officer representing the four CU campuses. In that position, she served as the primary liaison to the Colorado Commission on Higher Education, worked closely with the Board of Regents, and participated in activities that involved governmental and community relations. Her position also encompassed responsibility for development and implementation of all academic policies; long-range planning, including enrollment, human resources, funding and evaluation of academic programs; and development of research initiatives and technology management. She also coordinated final reviews of all academic program decisions and faculty personnel actions.

Born June 2, 1943 in Jackson, Tenn., she is married (Sal) and is the mother of two children, Austin (19) and Adrian (17). Albino has been a principal or contributing investigator in 10 grants and contracts, most involving psychology or dentistry.

CHANCELLOR RODERIC PARK

Dr. Roderic Park was named interim chancellor for the University of Colorado-Boulder on June 22, 1994, coming to CU after a long and successful academic career at the University of California at Berkeley.

Park, 62, replaced Dr. Jim Corbridge, who retired after eight years as chancellor for the Boulder campus of Colorado's largest public university.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Harvard in 1953 and a Ph.D. in 1958 from the California Institute of Technology. He had postdoctoral fellowships at both Cal Tech and the University of California, and took his first full-time post at Berkeley in 1960 as an assistant professor of botany.

After three years, he was named an associate professor of botany, and was named professor in the same field in 1966, a position he held until 1989. He became a professor of plant biology in 1989, and was named professor emeritus of plant biology in 1993, the position he held at the time he accepted the CU chancellorship.

His academic specializations included plant physiology, molecular biology and geochemistry. His latest research interest centered around molecular biology of sieve tube elements in relation to plant defense mechanisms and transport.

He has held several academic administrative posts in his career, most notably serving as California's vice chancellor from 1980 to 1990. He also was the Provost and Dean of the College of Letters and Science at Cal from 1972 to 1980.

Park also has served on 17 different boards, committees or trusteeships, including seven years on the Harvard Board of Overseers and the University Labor Relations Council and six years as a trustee for the University of California Foundation.

He currently has a manuscript in preparation entitled, "It's Only The Janitor—A Guide to the Customs and Inhabitants of the Academy." He calls it a "somewhat whimsical account of the major issues facing higher education and strategies for dealing with them," based on his experiences at Berkeley, Harvard and elsewhere.

He was born on Jan. 7, 1932 in Cannes, France. He is an accomplished sailor and is currently the director of the Richmond Yacht Club Foundation. He has won several sailing competitions including a single-handed sailing race between California and the Hawaiian Islands.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE JAMES CORBRIDGE

James N. Corbridge, Jr., is entering his fifth year as CU's faculty representative to the Big Eight Conference.

Corbridge was the chair of the representatives for the 1993-94 academic year, and thus played an instrumental role in the Big Eight's expansion, when the league added four Southwest Conference schools in February, 1994.

He retired as the Chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder campus in June, 1994, after eight years in the position. A professor of law, he has returned to teaching on the UCB campus.

Corbridge also is known on campus for his administrative skills and accomplishments. In his 29 years at CU, he has held many top-level administrative posts — as well as developing a distinguished teaching and research career in the School of Law.

Corbridge joined the CU faculty in 1965, coming to Colorado from the law firm of Lord, Day and Lord in New York. On the law faculty, Corbridge quickly developed an interest and expertise in natural resources, focusing on water and mining issues.

His enthusiasm for teaching was apparent to colleagues and students alike. In 1972, Corbridge was honored with the CU Teaching Excellence Award in recognition of outstanding skills in instruction. Over the years, he has taught basic property, future interests, mining law, oil and gas, real property security and conveyancing, and water law.

Corbridge's leadership qualities came to the attention of campus administrators not long after his arrival. In 1970, he was named vice president for student affairs, followed by an appointment as vice president for student and minority affairs in 1972.

Two years later, he was named vice chancellor for academic affairs, a position he held until 1977. Then, from 1979 to 1981, Corbridge served as interim vice chancellor for academic services. He was acting vice chancellor for academic affairs in 1986 when he became Chancellor.

Born in Mineola, N.Y., Corbridge lived most of his early years on Long Island. He earned a bachelor's degree from Brown University in 1955, majoring in English and American Literature. He graduated from Yale Law School in 1963. He has two children, Loren and Stuart, and is married to Pauline Hale.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR BILL MAROLT

Bill Marolt

Bill Marolt is in his 11th year as athletic director, only the third in University of Colorado history, accepting the position on Aug. 3, 1984.

Marolt, 51, succeeded Eddie Crowder as the athletic department boss officially on Sept. 1, 1984. Crowder held the post from 1965 until he stepped down. Harry Carlson, CU's athletic director from 1927 until 1965, is the only other to ever hold the title.

Marolt's first decade as athletic director has been a most productive one, as CU is enjoying more success than at any point in its athletic history (a record 11 CU teams were ranked in the nation's top 25 at one point or another during the 1993-94 season). He has applied a no-nonsense, yet personal, approach in building the department into one of the country's strongest.

The athletic department has operated within its budget every year under his direction, and at the same time has grown in both size and stature. He has instituted many programs that are in place at CU that are unique to college athletics.

One of the projects he is most proud of in his tenure is the Dal Ward Athletic Center, an effort that he has guided from concept to reality. Spearheading a $14 million fund-raising campaign for the building, he has been involved in every facet of the state-of-the-art structure, including planning, design, layout and most importantly, fund-raising. His efforts landed multi-million dollar donations which enabled construction on the building to begin following the 1990 football season.

He was also a member of the Denver Organizing Committee, which hosted the 1990 NCAA Final Four along with the University, is on the Colorado Winter Games Committee, and is chairman of the Big Eight Conference's television committee.

Marolt came to CU from the United States Ski Team, where he was Alpine Director since 1978. He was responsible for the overall administration of the alpine program year-round in addition to his coaching duties.

At the 1984 Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, Marolt's skiers won five medals, including three gold, culminating a tremendous coaching career for Marolt.

Marolt as a CU skier in 1966.

Born September 1, 1943 in Aspen, Marolt graduated from Aspen High School in 1961 where he lettered in both skiing and football. He went on to attend the University of Colorado where he enjoyed a very successful skiing career, both on the collegiate and national circuits. He was a member of the World Championship Ski Team in 1962 and 1966 and a member of the 1964 Olympic team.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in marketing from CU in 1967. The following summer he was named head coach of the Buff Ski Team, a position he would hold from 1969 through 1978.

What Marolt did with the CU Ski Team is virtually unmatched by any other coach in any sport on the college level. Over the course of 10 seasons, he piloted the Buffs to seven straight NCAA championships. His recruiting was the best in the nation, proven by 30 of his athletes winning All-American honors those 10 seasons (15 in alpine, 10 in jumping, and five in nordic).

At CU, Marolt also worked closely with the University's ski club and recreation department to develop a women's ski program, which eventually led to the establishment of a women's varsity ski team.

Following his success at CU, Marolt moved on to the U.S. Ski Team, based in Park City, Utah. As Alpine Director, Marolt prepared, monitored, and controlled a budget each year that totaled almost two million dollars. He was responsible for organization and administration, fiscal management, public relations, staffing and personnel.

It was these characteristics that put him ahead of the pack when then-CU President Dr. Arnold Weber selected a successor to Crowder.

Marolt is married to the former Constance (Connie) Parfet. The couple have two children, Katy (21) and Shannon (18).

In 1991, he was honored with the President's Award from Colorado Ski Country USA, which cited his efforts in CU's two national championships (football and skiing) during the 1990-91 academic year and his contributions over the years to the skiing industry in the state.

In 1993, he became the fifth person associated with the University of Colorado to be inducted into the United States Ski Hall-of-Fame. He was inducted primarily for his accomplishments as a ski racer, as he won over two dozen major amateur competitions, including four NCAA titles and six national downhill or giant slalom championships. His eight years as a member of the U.S. Ski Team (1961-68) and six years as coach (1978-84) also were a factor in his joining his former coach, Bob Beattie, and three CU teammates, Jimmie Heuga, Billy Kidd and Buddy Werner, in the national hall.

HEAD COACH BILL McCARTNEY

Bill McCartney is in his 13th season as head football coach at the University of Colorado, and he is now the all-time winningest coach in CU's 104-year history.

"Mac" is 82-54-5 at the reins of the Buffaloes, having guided the school to its first national championship in football in 1990 and to more bowl games, eight, than any before him. He has coached Colorado to three Big Eight titles, nine consecutive winning seasons in league competition and a 52-28-4 mark in conference play, all of which are school bests. He has coached the most games ever (141) at Colorado, and with 12 seasons under his belt, is second only to the legendary Fred Folsom (15) in the number of seasons working on the "hilltop."

He is currently working under his fourth contract at CU, a 15-year deal signed in 1990, one of the longest contracts ever in college football history. It expires in the year 2005, so it is virtually assured that he will complete his entire head coaching tenure at Colorado.

McCartney was hired as the 20th head coach in CU history on June 9, 1982, taking over a team which had just suffered through three of its worst seasons in an otherwise tradition-rich football program.

He came to Colorado from the University of Michigan, where he had spent the previous eight years on Bo Schembachler's staff. Among his credits were reputations as a great recruiter and a great defensive coach.

It would take McCartney just four years to put Colorado back on the football map, as CU won the NCAA's Most Improved Team honor in 1985. Four years later, the school attained its first-ever No. 1 ranking (1989), with CU's first bowl victory in 19 seasons and the national championship to follow just one year later.

Upon his arrival in Boulder, he had but 94 days to hire a staff and prepare for his first season at CU. When the first game against California rolled around some three months later, he had only 77 players on scholarship, and only 73 in uniform to line up and play.

His first three teams posted records of 2-8-1, 4-7 and 1-10. The offense came alive his second season, primarily the passing game, helping CU to improve its record. His third team was better than the record showed (four of the 10 losses by seven points or less), but was also injury plagued. Though those three teams passed for over 6,700 yards, the rushing game was almost nonexistent and the defense nowhere near McCartney's standards.

Thus the time was right for a change, and without question, McCartney pulled off the most bold and daring move in CU football history. He announced in March of 1985 that the Buffaloes were switching to the wishbone formation on offense. What did switching from a passing to a running game do for CU in 1985, McCartney's fourth year? Colorado posted a 7-5 mark, the most wins in seven years at the school, and netted the Buffs the NCAA's most improved team honor. CU also went from last to ninth in rushing offense and from last to first in net punting, two of the most dramatic turnabouts in NCAA history. And CU's 4-3 league mark, which tied the Buffs for third place, helped McCartney gain the Big Eight's "Coach-of-the-Year" award.

Colorado also earned its first bowl appearance in almost a decade in 1985, losing to Washington 20-17 in the Freedom Bowl.

In 1986, the Buffs staggered to an 0-4 start, but McCartney's fifth team never threw in the towel. Colorado rebounded to post a 6-1 mark in the Big Eight, finishing second in the league race, CU's best effort since winning it in 1976. And McCartney's Buffs became the first at CU to defeat Nebraska (20-10) since 1967.

A win over Oklahoma would have given CU an Orange Bowl berth, but the 28-0 loss to the Sooners didn't eliminate CU from the post-season picture. Colorado made its second straight bowl appearance, though losing to Baylor 21-9 in the Bluebonnet Bowl, and finished 6-6 for the year. The 1987 Buffaloes posted a 7-4 record, but the team was left out when the bowl committees made their selections.

His 1988 Buffaloes posted the best record at CU since 1976 by going 8-4 (with a new-fangled "I-Bone" offense), which included a win at No. 19 Iowa. Mac's team again battled the Big Eight's top two to the wire, losing 17-14 to Oklahoma and 7-0 at Nebraska. (CU's 4-3 mark in league play placed CU fourth.) However, the Buffs fell short again in postseason play, losing 20-17 to Brigham Young in the Freedom Bowl. The biggest stride the 1988 team made was a return to the national Top 20 for the first time in over a decade.

As the unanimous National Coach-of-the-Year selection for 1989 (UPI, Kodak/AFCA, Bear Bryant/FWAA, The Sporting News, Dodge/Maxwell Football Club, CBS/Chevrolet), McCartney's eighth CU team roared to an 11-0 regular season record and the first-ever No. 1 national ranking in CU's 100-year football history. The Buffs won their second outright Big Eight title, to go with 1961, which earned McCartney unanimous Coach-of-the-Year honors in the league. Colorado became the first team since 1969 to defeat Oklahoma and Nebraska in the same year, and all told the Buffs defeated five top 25 and three bowl teams. Only a 21-6 loss to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl kept CU from being crowned national champion, but the No. 4 final ranking was still the second best ever for the Buffaloes at the time.

His ninth Colorado team won the biggest prize possible in college football: the national championship. The 1990 team, with an 11-1-1 record, was also the first Buffalo team to claim back-to-back Big Eight titles. He was again named (by UPI) as the league's Coach-of-the-Year, the third time he has been afforded that honor.

Colorado's 10-9 win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl paved the way for the Associated Press to select the Buffaloes as the 1990 national champion. Nine members of the 1990 team were drafted into the NFL, and three players earned Colorado's first-ever unanimous All-America honors (Eric Bieniemy, Joe Garten and Alfred Williams). Williams won the Butkus Award, with Garten finishing second for the Outland Trophy and Bieniemy third in the Heisman Trophy race.

His 1991 team became the first at CU to win three straight Big Eight titles, going 6-0-1 in league play. He did this despite having the second-youngest team in the nation's Top 25, as he started nine freshmen or sophomores and utilized 24 of the pups in each week's game plan. Center Jay Leeuwenburg earned unanimous All-America honors, Mac's fourth unanimous selection in two years. His 10th CU team went 8-3-1 overall, earning McCartney's sixth bowl appearance (the Buffs lost to Alabama, 30-25, in the Blockbuster Bowl).

McCartney and his staff did another excellent coaching job in 1992, leading the Buffs to a 9-2-1 record, despite a total overhaul in the offensive system. The Buffs switched gears to a one-back, more pass-oriented attack, and the season produced a school and conference record 3,271 yards passing. The team was also McCartney's best defensively, surrendering only 278 yards a game and boasting the Thorpe Award winner in cornerback Deon Figures. The '92 squad also featured tackle Jim Hansen, CU's first Rhodes Scholar in 30 years. The 9-1-1 regular season mark was the fifth best in school history, and CU went to its seventh bowl under McCartney, a 26-22 loss to Syracuse in the Fiesta Bowl.

In 1993, he assumed the responsibilities of coaching the quarterbacks, the first time during his head coaching career that he worked with a specific position other than special teams. His 12th CU team posted an 8-3-1 mark, the losses coming by a combined 14 points. The team earned a sixth consecutive bowl appearance, defeating Fresno State by a 41-30 count in the Aloha Bowl. The offense continued to evolve, finishing 10th in the nation, averaging 470 yards per game. It was the first CU team in history to average over 200 yards both rushing and passing, and the first time since 1975 that Colorado led the league in total offense. A youthful defense matured during the league season, overcoming five seniors' graduation from the previous year's team into the National Football League.

Since 1985, when he made the bold move to the wishbone, McCartney's teams have posted a 75-29-4 record in registering nine straight winning seasons, both overall and in league play. His 1988 to 1992 teams went 25 straight games (23-0-2) without a loss in the Big Eight, the fourth longest streak in conference history.

Born on Aug. 22, 1940, McCartney was raised in Riverview, Mich. He graduated from Riverview High School in 1958, having earned 11 letters in three sports (football, basketball and base- ball). He was captain of the football and basketball teams his senior year.

The 54-year-old McCartney attended the University of Missouri on a football scholarship and lettered three times as a center-linebacker for the Tigers. He played in two Orange Bowl games and was named second-team All-Big Eight as a senior.

He graduated from Missouri in 1962 with a degree in education and immediately turned his attention to coaching. His first job was as an assistant at Joplin (Missouri) High in 1963 and 1964. He then moved back to Michigan to coach the basketball team at Holy Redeemer High School in Detroit. He coached there from 1964 to 1968.

The next stop for Mac was at Divine Child High in Dearborn, where he was the head basketball coach from 1969 to 1973 and the head football coach from 1971 to 1973. His '69 hoop team won the Detroit Catholic League title, and his '73 team the state class B crown.

His three Divine Child football teams compiled a 30-5 record, winning the DCL title all three years and the state championship in '71 and '73.

His feats of winning state titles in football and basketball in 1973 made him the first coach ever in the Michigan prep ranks to win both the same season. His basketball teams logged a 157-49 mark for 10 years in the high school ranks.

McCartney joined the University of Michigan coaching staff as a defensive coach in 1974, coaching the outside linebackers for the next three seasons. In 1977, he took over the chores as Michigan's defensive coordinator, a position he held until he departed for CU. One publication had Mac rated as one of the top five defensive coordinators in the nation in 1981, and he is still considered as one of the finest recruiters in the country.

McCartney gained national recognition at Michigan in 1980 when he devised a scheme to stop Purdue quarterback Mark Herrmann (using six defensive backs to neutralize Herrmann and his receivers). McCartney was named the Big Ten's "player" of the week for his plan.

Bill is married to the former Lynne (Lyndi) Taussig of Santa Monica, Calif. The couple have four grown children: Michael, Thomas, Kristyn and Marc. Coach McCartney is extremely active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and was voted the FCA's "Man-of-the-Year" in Colorado for 1986. He is also one of the co-founders of "Promise Keepers," one of the nation's fastest-growing Christian organizations.

He has also served on the coaching staffs in the 1987 Blue-Gray Game (North), the 1989 Hula Bowl (West) and 1990 East-West Shrine Game (West), and the 1992 Japan Bowl (head coach of the West).

McCartney with his coaching mentor at Michigan, Bo Schembechler, at CU's 1993 spring game.

McCartney's Ranked Teams

Colorado reappeared in the national polls under McCartney and his staff in 1988 for the first time in a decade. Since that time, the Buffs are 48-12-4 when they have been ranked in the Associated Press Top 25. Colorado is 20-4-2 as a top 10 team, and is 10-1-1 as a top five team. As the No. 1 team in the nation, the Buffaloes are 1-1. The only teams to defeat a McCartney squad that has had a national ranking have been Nebraska (three times), Stanford (twice), Brigham Young, Notre Dame, Illinois, Baylor, Alabama, Syracuse, and Miami. (Tennessee, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Kansas State registered the ties). As a ranked team against another ranked team, the Buffs are 14-10-3 under Mac.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Line Coach

Coaching Experience—Is in his seventh year at Colorado, his third as defensive line coach. McCartney named him Assistant Head Coach on April 27, 1993, as he is only the second assistant in McCartney's tenure to earn the title and responsibilities. He coached the outside linebackers his first four years in Boulder after joining the McCartney staff on March 14, 1988. He is also responsible for the punt and kickoff return teams. His punt return team was ranked second in the nation in 1989 and fourth in 1990. He started coaching in 1975, as he was the receivers coach at his alma mater, Bowling Green State University, where he worked under his former collegiate coach, Don Nehlen. After two years at Bowling Green, he moved on to the University of Toledo where he was the outside linebackers coach for three seasons (1977-79). He then rejoined Nehlen at West Virginia in 1980, where he would coach the outside linebackers for eight years (1980-87) prior to coming to CU.

Education—Graduated from Bowling Green in 1971 with a double bachelor's degree in physical education and history. He received his master's in college student personnel from Bowling Green a year later.

He started his coaching career in the fall of 1970, coaching the University of Michigan junior varsity team. He was on the defensive staff at Michigan the next two years before moving on to the University of Arizona. He coached the outside linebackers in 1973 and then added the defensive backs under his guidance as well starting in 1974. He went to Purdue with Coach Jim Young in 1977, where he coached the outside 'backers for the next five years (1977-81). In 1968, he returned to Bowling Green as the offensive line coach, and he remained there until 1970, when he was named to a similar position at the U.S. Naval Academy. BUFFALO FOOTBALL TECHNIQUE SCHOOL

The University of Colorado Buffalo Football Technique School has become the most popular in the Rocky Mountain Region, as kids from ages eight to 18 have annually come to Boulder to enjoy a week's worth of learning and recreation.

Called one of the best football camps in America, the school features CU head coach Bill McCartney, the Buffalo coaching staff, and several area college and high school coaches. The strength of the CU technique school is the player-to-coach ratio (never more than 10-1) and the emphasis on teaching.

The majority of the school is spent on the field in the actual teaching and drilling of the fundamentals and techniques of each position, the same exact things the Colorado Buffaloes are taught. Campers will learn about the importance of attitude, discipline, work, pride and team concept, the same qualities that have made CU a national championship program.

Camp dates for 1995 are tentatively scheduled for June 19-22 (8- to 13-year-olds) and June 25-29 (14 years and older). Rates are available for daycampers (in the $130-160 range) and dormcampers ($215-300). For more information, call the CU football office at 303/492-5331.

1994 COLORADO FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

Heading into the 1993 season, Colorado head coach Bill McCartney's goal was to produce a more balanced attack on offense. When the smoke cleared after an 8-3-1 season, he got just what he wanted: an offense that churned out 470 yards per game, 240 on the ground and 230 through the air.

The Buffs weren't perfect in 1993, as the offense was inconsistent at times and never really improved through the season the way McCartney had wished. The defense, the Big Eight's best the year before, took awhile to come around, yielding 369 yards per game for the season (but only 319 in league play after allowing 458 in the four non-conference games).

"We were disappointed that we didn't play better at crunch time in close games," McCartney said. "But we were encouraged by winning our last four games and getting the bowl victory. Ending last year on a high note provides us with good momentum heading into this season."

Last year did lay a foundation for what could be a spectacular season in 1994. The Buffaloes return 36 lettermen, including 16 starters (nine offense, seven defense) and another 10 players that have starting experience during their careers. It appears to be the perfect balance of a veteran team sprinkled with youth; 13 of the 22 starting spots heading into the fall are occupied by upperclassmen, with most of the team's 14 seniors in key positions on the two-deep.

Where does CU need to improve to contend for the Big Eight Conference title and to be in the hunt for the national championship? The Buffs need to fine-tune things on offense and fill some voids on defense created by graduation. The kicking game, with the graduation of do-everything Mitch Berger, is really the only unknown of this team.

Michael Westbrook

"Our first units on the offensive and defensive lines will be of a high quality," McCartney noted. "They were both young a year ago, but they return intact much more experienced. I'm concerned about our depth at tailback and outside linebacker, and our two kicking positions will be manned by untried players."

"We would like to upgrade our passing game and continue to develop our running game in concert with that," McCartney said. "We have a lot of people back, almost everyone in fact, and that will enable us to continue to improve offensively. We want to be able to run the ball with more authority, which will enable us to also improve our passing game. We did a lot of good things with this offense last year, but we're not through building it, by any means."

The addition of Rick Neuheisel as quarterbacks and receivers coach produced immediate results during spring ball. Neuheisel, who replaced Karl Dorrell (he joined the Arizona State staff in January), came to CU from UCLA with a reputation for being an outstanding offensive teacher who is big on the details of the game.

Quarterback Kordell Stewart returns, as the senior has already set two dozen school passing records, including the mark for career yards. Though his favorite target to throw to from last year is gone (Johnson), his bullseye from two years ago, Michael Westbrook, returns, as does All-America tight end candidate Christian Fauria. CU's top rusher from '93, Lamont Warren, is now an Indianapolis Colt, but the team's second leading runner is back, and Rashaan Salaam is a legitimate Heisman Trophy candidate (as are Stewart and Westbrook). The offensive line, which has been given a lot of respect in the preseason magazines, will also be a force. It includes

Kordell Stewart

Tony Berti

Outland Trophy candidate Tony Berti, and two-year starters Derek West at tackle and Bryan Stoltenberg at center. Also returning is honorable mention all-Big Eight guard Chad Hammond, who has worked hard in battling back from back surgery.

Defensively, the Buffs have two of the league's top outside linebackers to replace in Sam Rogers (CU's MVP) and Ronnie Woolfork. The talent is in the cupboard, but experience and transition will be the big questions. Also gone are two veterans in the secondary, Dwayne Davis and Dennis Collier.

"We obviously have some holes to fill on defense," McCartney said. "We're strong and experienced up front and inside, but the OLB's are largely untested and the secondary will be young with mostly sophomores back there. We have the ingredients for a good defense, and after watching these guys during the spring, I'm optimistic we'll be improved."

One other coaching change in the off-season saw recruiting coordinator Chuck Heater return to the sidelines as secondary coach. The NCAA eliminated his old position, thus he returned to one where he has nine years of experience at three major colleges, Wisconsin, Ohio State and Notre Dame.

The anchor of the defense will be the line, as the trio of Shannon Clavelle, Kerry Hicks and Darius Holland have been tabbed the No. 1 defensive line in the nation by The Sporting News. Bolstering that threesome is cornerback Chris Hudson, who has been selected to Playboy's Preseason All-America team. Hudson was in the final eight for the Thorpe Award last season, when he was third-team All-America by the Associated Press. Also back is inside linebacker Ted Johnson, the team's leading tackler from a year ago who has received some preseason All-America mention as well.

A growing concern in college football is depth. "The numbers crunch in college football due to the cutbacks continue to affect our depth chart," McCartney said. "When you look at our team as a whole, depth is an issue. We only have one proven tailback and we don't have established depth in the offensive line. We have good candidates at outside linebacker and safety, but they're unproven. And neither of our kickers have made a kick for Colorado in a game."

Schools are allowed to have 85 players on scholarship, down 10 from four years ago, and squad limits of 105 including walk-ons. The Buffs' roster will number around 95 including some invited walk-ons for the 1994 season.

Colorado will play one of the toughest schedules in the nation in 1994. After opening with Northeast Louisiana in Boulder and then having an open week, the Buffaloes host Wisconsin before traveling in consecutive weeks to Michigan, Texas and Missouri. It will be the first time since 1972 that a CU team will have three straight road games. Colorado has Oklahoma at home and Nebraska on the road in '94, with the CU-NU game deciding the league champ and Orange Bowl participant in each of the last five seasons.

As for the Big Eight race, McCartney thinks it might be the best in a long time. "It could prove to be one of the most closely contested league races in recent years," he said. "The conference as a whole is on the upswing, and we're two years away from the expansion." That is in reference to the Big Eight's merger with four Southwest Conference schools in 1996, Baylor, Texas, Texas A & M and Texas Tech.

KNOW COLORADO FOOTBALL

- Colorado posted an 8-3-1 record in 1993, its ninth straight winning season and sixth straight with at least eight wins (the latter is a school record). The Buffaloes own the nation's sixth-best record record, 47-10-4, over the past five seasons. Only Miami, Fla. (7), Florida State (8) and Notre Dame (9) have been beaten fewer times than Colorado.
- Colorado was ranked No. 16 in the final 1993 polls (Associated Press and USA Today/CNN Coaches). The Buffaloes have been ranked 83 consecutive weeks in the media balloting, adding to the school record, and 82 in a row (and 85 of the last 86) in the coaches' balloting (which is combined between UPI and USA Today/CNN).
- Colorado has 36 returning lettermen, which includes 16 starters back from the 1993 team, and 26 players who have starting experience some time during their CU careers. Nine starters return on offense (losing only WR Charles Johnson and TE Sean Embree), with seven back on defense.
- Bill McCartney is 82-54-5 in 12 seasons at Colorado. He is the school's all-time winningest coach, and has also coached the most games (141) in CU history. He has brought the CU football program back to national prominence; evidence of this is spending 83 straight weeks in the national polls and 41 national or regional television appearances since 1984. Under "Mac," Colorado is 48-12-4 as a ranked team and is 20-4-2 as a top 10 team (AP poll). Colorado owns a 14-10-3 record as a ranked team against other ranked teams under McCartney.
- THE BUFFS IN THE BIG EIGHT ... Since 1985, CU is firmly established in the top three in the Big Eight Conference standings. Here's a look at the league standings (conference games only) in that time frame: NEBRASKA 54-8-1; OKLAHOMA 50-11-2; COLORADO 48-12-3; OKLAHOMA STATE 25-36-2; IOWA STATE 22-39-2; KANSAS 17-44-2; MISSOURI 16-47; KANSAS STATE 14-47-2. Since 1989, everyone else is looking up at the Buffs: COLORADO 30-2-3; NEBRASKA 30-4-1; OKLAHOMA 24-10-1; KANSAS 14-20-1; KANSAS STATE 12-22-1; IOWA STATE 11-22-2; OKLAHOMA STATE 7-26-2; MISSOURI 8-27. Colorado owns the best record in league game action in the nation over the past five years; no other team has less than four losses. The Buffs have posted a winning record in league play for nine straight seasons, another school first (the previous best before this streak was three).
- Colorado is 33-11-1 in regular season road games since 1985, and have won 26 of the last 32 starts in enemy stadiums. The Buffaloes have won 20 of their last 23 Big Eight road games dating back to 1987 (the exceptions: losses at Nebraska in 1988 and 1992 and a tie at Kansas State in 1993).
- In the 1994 NFL Draft, Colorado had the second most players selected in the two-day, seven-round event. Notre Dame led the way with 10, followed by the Buffaloes, Alabama, Florida State and Texas A&M, all with six. The Buffs have had 24 players drafted since 1991.

- Here's a look where some of the Buffs stand on all-time charts at Colorado going into the 1994 season:
 - QB KORDELL STEWART is first in all-time passing yards (4,410), is second in total offense (5,060), third in TD passes (23), and 59th in rushing (650);
 - WR MICHAEL WESTBROOK is second in all-time receiving yards (1,859), is first in all-time receptions (131) and is 31st on the scoring list (92);
 - TE CHRISTIAN FAURIA is ninth in receptions (63) and is 15th in receiving yards (702);
 - TB RASHAAN SALAAM is 38th in all-time rushing yards (1,002);
 - CB CHRIS HUDSON is fourth in interceptions (12) and is tied for 18th in pass deflections (14);
 - ILB TED JOHNSON is 12th all-time in total tackles (262).

ONE OF A DOZEN ... Colorado is one of just 12 schools in Division I which have strung together nine consecutive winning seasons. The Buffs have posted a winning record every year since 1985, both overall and in Big Eight Conference play. Here's a list of the 12 which have done it: Alabama, Brigham Young, Colorado, Florida, Florida State, Fresno State, Miami, Michigan, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas A & M and Washington. The Big Eight is the only conference to have as many as three teams with streaks as long as nine.

FARM SYSTEM . . . Bill McCartney's staffs have produced six Division I head coaches. Offensive coordinator Gerry DiNardo (1982-90 on the CU staff) became head coach at Vanderbilt in Dec., 1990; his replacement, Gary Barnett (1984-91), was named head coach at Northwestern in Dec., 1991; and one-time defensive coordinator Lou Tepper (1983-87) was named head coach at Illinois, also in December of 1991. The next month, Steve Logan (1985-86) took over at East Carolina. Most recently, Ron Dickerson, a CU assistant between 1982 and 1984, was named head coach at Temple (Nov. 1992) and Jim Caldwell, also on the staff from 1982-84, was named head coach at Wake Forest (Dec. 1992).

SCHEDULE NOTES . . . Colorado's 11 opponents this fall combined for a 75-49-4 record in 1993, a winning percentage of .611. Five teams went to bowls (and were all ranked at the end of the season) and two others were ranked at some point during the '93 season. The opponents and their records: Northeastern Louisiana (9-3), Texas (5-5-1), Wisconsin (10-1-1), Michigan (8-4), Missouri (3-7-1), Oklahoma (9-3), Kansas State (9-2-1), Nebraska (11-1), Oklahoma State (3-8), Kansas (5-7) and Iowa State (3-8).

TRENDS AND STUFF . . . Since 1985, when the Buffs converted to the wishbone on offense and reversed the fortunes of the football program, the Buffaloes are 75-29-4. In these 108 games, CU has posted the following records (including bowls):

- 42-2-2 when amassing 400-plus yards total offense (20-1 with 500-plus);
- 57-4-2 when scoring 24 or more points;
- 55-4-3 when holding edge in time of possessions (20-25-1 when not);

- 42-5-1 when making 20-plus first downs;
- 35-1-1 when converting over 50 percent on third down attempts;
- 16-0-1 when punting two or fewer times (24-6-1 with three or fewer);
- 50-7-1 when scoring first (55-13-2 in Mac Era);
- 51-11-2 when committing two or fewer turnovers (14-2-2 with zero);
- 58-10-2 when average field position is CU30 or better (14-0 at CU40 or better);
- 57-8-1 when holding opponents to 17 points or less (61-8-1 in Mac Era);
- 35-1-1 when holding opponent to under 100 yards rushing;
- 45-6-1 when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense;
- 65-4-3 when leading after three quarters (60-2-3 in last 65);
- 63-7-2 when leading at halftime (47-5-2 in last 54);
- 73-15-4 when scoring 14 or more points (2-14 scoring 13 or fewer);
- 13-6-2 when passing for more yards than rushing;
- 47-2-2 when holding the edge in first downs and time of possession.

Since 1989, Colorado has posted the nation's eighth best overall record at 47-10-4. Here's a look at some trends during this time frame:

- 28-2-2 when amassing 400-plus yards total offense (15-1 with 500-plus);
- 37-3-2 when scoring 24 or more points;
- 34-2-3 when holding edge in time of possession (13-8-1 when not);
- 30-3-1 when making 20-plus first downs;
- 21-0-1 when converting over 50 percent on third down attempts;
- 6-0-1 when passing for 300-plus yards (17-4-2 200-plus; 2-0-1 400-plus);
- 33-4-2 when committing two or fewer turnovers (8-2-2 with zero);

- 36-5-2 when average field position is CU30 or better (10-0 at CU40 or better);
- 33-1-1 when holding opponents to 17 points or less;
- 19-1-1 when holding opponent to under 100 yards rushing;
- 29-1-1 when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense;
- 28-3-3 when running more plays than the opponent;
- 13-6-2 when passing for more yards than rushing;
- 28-1-1 when scoring first (16-0-1 in last 17);
- 29-1-2 when holding the edge in first downs and time of possession.

IN-THE-BOWLS . . . Colorado is 6-12 in bowl games, having lined up with 16 different opponents. A quick look at CU's bowl history:

Year	Bowl	Opponent	Result	Year	Bowl	Opponent	Result
1937	Cotton	Rice	L 14-28	1976	Orange	Ohio State	L 10-27
1956	Orange	Clemson	W 27-21	1985	Freedom	Washington	L 17-20

1967	Bluebonnet	Miami, Fla.	W 31-21	1988	Freedom	BYU	L 17-20
1969	Liberty	Alabama	W 47-33	1989	Orange	Notre Dame	L 6-21
1970	Liberty	Tulane	L 3-17	1990	Orange	Notre Dame	W 10-9

1972	Gator	Auburn	L 3-24	1992	Fiesta	Syracuse	L 22-26
1975	Bluebonnet	Texas	L 21-38	1993	Aloha	Fresno State	W 41-30

ON THE PLASTIC . . . Colorado is 47-5-3 in its last 55 games on artificial turf (losses were at Illinois in 1990, Baylor in Boulder in 1991, at Nebraska in 1992 and to Miami and Nebraska in Boulder last season). CU is 31-2-3 in its last 36 conference games on the fake greenery, and is 2-2 in bowl games (the 1971, 1975 and 1986 Bluebonnet Bowls and the 1993 Aloha Bowl).

TWO-MINUTE WARNING . . . Colorado has scored 54 times in 73 tries that the offense has been put into the two-minute drill since 1988 (or 74.0 percent of the time), going 8-of-11 in 1993 (five touchdowns and one field goal in the first half and two second half TDs in the hurry-up format against Miami). The Buffs were 6-of-12 in 1992, scoring three field goals (including the "game-tie" against Oklahoma) and three touchdowns (including the game winner against Kansas and late in the first half against Syracuse in the Fiesta Bowl). Colorado was 8-of-12 in the two-minute offense in 1991, 11-of-14 in 1990, 11-of-11 in 1989 and 10-of-13 in 1988. Vance Joseph led the comebacks against Oklahoma State and Kansas in '91, replacing an injured Darian Hagan in both games. Against Kansas, he brought the Buffs back from 14 down with 8:44 left in the third quarter for the win, which included an eight-play, 80-yard drive in the final two minutes.

FUMBLES, NOT! . . . In one of the most amazing stats of the season, Colorado tailbacks fumbled only three times in 404 carries in 1993. Lamont Warren, Rashaan Salaam and James Hill fumbled one time each, with CU recovering each time. Warren had 183 carries, Salaam 161, Hill 58 and Derek Agnew 2. CU had just 18 fumbles on the season, and only 13 on offense (five came on return teams).

RECORD . . . The Buffs set a school record for the most 500-plus yard total offense games in a season with the 598-yard effort against Kansas. It gave Colorado five on the season, breaking the old mark of four which had been accomplished in both 1975 and 1989. CU just missed setting a record for total offense for a season (470.4; the record is 472.8).

TURNOVERS . . . Colorado led the Big Eight (and was fourth in the NCAA) in turnover margin last year, having played four turnover-free games in 1993. The Buffs committed just 13 miscues (seven interceptions and six lost fumbles), tying the school record for the fewest committed in an 11-game season (CU also had just 13 in 1989). Colorado had 37 turnovers in 1992, ranking in the bottom tenth in the NCAA the entire season. The Buffs turned that stat completely around in '93, spending the entire year in the top 10. CU was spectacular for the most part, committing three turnovers against Stanford and Nebraska but only seven in the other nine games.

STAT SHOTS . . . Some interesting statistical notes about Colorado football:

- In 1993, the Buffaloes led the Big Eight Conference in total offense for the first time since the 1975 season. Colorado averaged 470.4 yards per game (240.0 rushing and 230.5 passing, the first time in CU history a team has averaged over 200 yards both rushing and passing). The Buffs outdistanced second-place Nebraska by 45 yards, ending the Huskers' four-year reign.
- CU was a different team defensively in the Big Eight, as compared to the first four games of the year (when a young CU defense lined up against four solid experienced offenses in Texas, Baylor, Stanford and Miami, Fla.). Here's a look at the season in three breakdowns (first number is final average; second is first four-game average; bold is seven-game league average): Total Defense 369.3/457.5-318.9; Rushing Defense 150.3/168.8-140.3; Passing Defense 230.5/288.8-179.1; Scoring Defense 20.0/27.8-15.6; First Downs Allowed 19.0/23.3-16.6.
- Colorado amassed its yardage in solid, consistent chunks in 1993 as the nation's No. 10 ranked total offense (470 yards per game). CU ran 841 plays, and of those, 183 went for 10 or more yards (22 percent) and 396 for five or more yards (47 percent). There were 249 plays for zero or minus yardage (29 percent). By comparison, the opponent had 763 plays, 151 for 10 or more yards (19 percent), 288 for five or more (38 percent) and 267 for zero or minus yards (35 percent).
- Kordell Stewart led the team last year in first downs earned with 134 (35 rushing, 99 passing), with Lamont Warren next with 54 (44 rush, 8 receiving, 2 passing). In fact, Warren was the only player in the Big Eight who scored a touchdown rushing and receiving who also threw a TD pass.
- In its history, Colorado is 220-6-1 when scoring 30 or more points; along with a 151-3 record with 35-plus points and 140-2 with 36 or more tallies. The three losses with 35 more points came to Air Force (58-35 in 1968), Oklahoma (82-42 in 1980) and Stanford (41-37 last year).
- Colorado has not lost to an unranked (Associated Press) team in Big Eight play since dropping a 38-6 decision against Kansas State in the 1984 season finale. Since 1985, Colorado is 9-0 against Iowa State, Missouri and Kansas, 8-0 against Kansas State, 6-0 against Oklahoma State and 0-0-1 against Oklahoma when these schools have not been ranked (Nebraska has been ranked each year). That's a 41-0-1 record since 1985.
- Colorado has allowed 40 or more points only three times in the last nine seasons (spanning 108 games), as Oklahoma State has done it twice and Nebraska once (OSU, twice, Tennessee, Missouri, Alabama, Baylor, Nebraska, Stanford, Miami and Fresno State are the only teams to score at least 30 of the CU defense in the last 94 games). In 65 of the last 100 regular season games, the opponent has been held to 17 points or less (and to 21 or less in 90 of the last 108 games). By contrast, CU has scored 20 or more points in 48 of its last 57 regular season games.
- The Buffs are 17-0-2 in their last 19 games against unranked teams (Associated Press), along with records of 33-1-2 in the last 36 and 47-3-2 in the last 52. The last unranked team to win in Boulder was Oregon in the 1987 season opener.
- CU has allowed only 76 TD's the last 168 times the enemy has cracked its 20 (since 1988; the other 90 times have yielded 42 field goals and 48 non-scores).
- Colorado is 31-2-3 in its last 36 league games (dating back to the 1988 finale), and is the only team in the nation to have less than four conference losses since 1989.
- In 1993, Colorado did a good job in forcing bad field position for its opponents. Out of 142 drives, 77 started at or inside the enemy 20 (54%), with only 13 starting in plus territory (the 50 or better). On offense, 65 of CU's 142 drives started at or inside the 20 (46%), and CU also started 13 in plus territory.

- The Buffaloes dominated in the first half for the most part in 1993. Colorado outscored its opponents, 172-86, in the first half, when it also outgained the foe by a whopping 2,718-1,775. The three games CU didn't dominate the first half were in the three losses: Stanford (CU trailed, 21-17), Miami (CU trailed 21-6) and Nebraska (CU trailed 21-10).
- Colorado struck it rich on second down last fall, which is becoming a Buffalo tradition. The Buffs gained 2,002 yards on 291 second-down plays, a hefty 6.9 average. The Buffs did pretty good on other downs as well: first (5.7) and third (6.1).
- Colorado signed its fourth most high school All-Americans in its recruiting history, as 10 of the 16 signees earned some kind of All-America honor (62.5 percent). In 1993, 17 of the 20 high school signees received some kind of postseason All-America recognition (85.0%, which was a school best). The most All-Americans signed in 1992 (20 of 25), with the third most (14 of 20) inked in 1991. PLAYER BIOGRAPHIES

17 AYYUB ABDUL-RAHMAAN, QB

6-0, 200, Fr., RS, Oakland, Calif. (Skyline)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed fourth at quarterback. He saw limited time during spring drills in scrimmages and games, completing 1-of-3 passes for 11 yards. 1993: Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at quarterback.

High School—Garnered SuperPrep All-Far West honors as a senior, when he was named Skyline's most valuable player (after he earned the same honor the previous season at Berkeley High School up the bay). He was a two-time all-

Oakland Athletic League selection (once at each school) and earned all-Metro (San Francisco Bay) honors as a senior. As a senior, he completed 110 of 140 passes (an astounding 78.6 percent) for 1,876 yards and 21 touchdowns, throwing only four interceptions, and rushed for 460 yards on 15 attempts (mostly broken plays or scrambling out of the pocket). His top games included a 15-of-19 effort for 310 yards and two TDs against Bellarmine and a four-touchdown effort (three pass, one rush) against Castlemont. As a junior, he threw for over 1,000 yards and 11 TDs with only five interceptions, and as a sophomore, he rushed and passed for about 500 yards each, as he was hampered much of the season by assorted injuries. For his career, he passed for over 3,400 yards and 28 TD passes. Skyline won the Oakland League (at one juncture, his team was ranked No. 2 in the state and lost in the state title game). Berkeley was 6-4 his junior year and 3-7 when he was a sophomore under coach Earl Moore. Also lettered three times in his prep career in basketball, and averaged 15 points per game as a starting guard his senior year.

Academics—Undecided on his major, and is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He is interested in mechanical engineering or political science.

Personal—Born Jan. 20, 1975 in Berkeley, Calif. Hobbies include drawing. Father (Frank) played at Cal-Berkeley (defensive lineman) and is an Oakland attorney. Last name is pronounced eye-you abdul rogg-mon.

68 GERALD ANCAR, OG

6-2, 260, Soph., VR, Gretna, La. (Archbishop Shaw)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at left offensive guard. 1993: Saw action in one game (Baylor) and did not letter. 1992: Redshirted; did not see any game action but practiced all season on the offensive line.

High School—As a senior, he was a Who's Who All-American (Terranova listing), when he also earned first-team all-state, all-district, all-metro and all-West Bank honors. He was a two-year starter on the offensive line, playing both guard and tackle, and was a preseason all-metro choice prior to his junior season. Shaw won three district championships during his career, posting a 10-2 record his senior year (to go with 12-1 records his junior and sophomore seasons). His high school coach was Hank Tierney.

Academics—Majoring in fine arts at Colorado.

Personal—Born Nov. 11, 1974 in Port Sulphur, La. Hobbies include hunting and fishing.

5 BLAKE ANDERSON, WR

6-0, 185, Sr., VR, Palos Verdes, Calif. (Palos Verdes)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at wide receiver. He enjoyed a solid spring, as he had eight catches for 99 yards and a touchdown, along with a 39-yard punt return. 1993: Saw action in 10 regular season games plus the Aloha Bowl, mostly on special teams. He had five tackles on coverage units, a wedge break, and one punt return for one yard. 1992: Saw action in four games, but did not catch any passes. He was hampered by injuries much of the season, as an ankle sprain forced him to miss four of the first six games. He missed the Fiesta Bowl due to a severely pulled hamstring. He moved over to receiver from defense (free safety), his third position in as many years, and he responded well. He had six catches for 66 yards in the Alumni game. 1991: Saw action in the first five games of the season, two on defense and all five on special teams. He was in on 16 plays from scrimmage, posting two tackles (one solo). He moved back to free safety in fall drills after playing quarterback during the spring to shore up the depth at the position. 1990: Redshirted, as he practiced the entire season at free safety.

High School—An all-CIF all-purpose back selection his senior year, and was all-area by the L.A. Times and the Daily Breeze. Because of personnel problems, he played quarterback as a senior for Palos Verdes, helping his team to a 9-2 record and the co-championship of the Bay League. He passed for over 500 yards and rushed for 400 yards and accounted for 12 touchdowns. On defense, he had 76 tackles, six interceptions and four forced fumbles. His efforts on both sides of the ball earned him co-MVP in the Bay League for 1989. As a junior, he had six interceptions, when he was a first-team all-league selection at free-safety (Palos Verdes was 6-4 that year). High school coach was Bill Judy. Also lettered in soccer (a second-team all-leaguer) and baseball (catcher).

Academics—Majoring in communications at Colorado. He is on schedule to graduate in December.

Personal—Born Nov. 13, 1971 in Miami, Fla. Father (Dick) was an all-Big Eight defensive back at CU from 1965-67 (and went on to enjoy a 10-year career with the NFL Miami Dolphins), and was elected into the College Football Hall-of-Fame in 1993. His uncle, Bobby, was an All-American at CU from 1967-69 (he also played six seasons in the NFL with Denver and Washington). He is a good golfer and an avid fisherman. He has also excelled as an amateur boxer.

He was one of eight semifinalists for the Jim Thorpe Award, and he was both the league and national (The Sporting News) player-of-the-week for his game against Texas (two interceptions, one for a touchdown, seven tackles, two pass deflections and two third-down stops). On special teams, he blocked one field goal and pressured another attempt, influencing a miss. He was the team's defensive back champion twice and kick team champion three times. He was the defensive MVP in the Aloha Bowl, as he had an incredible game. He was in on seven tackles (all solo), with a quarterback sack, two forced fumbles, two recoveries and a pair of pass deflections. The Football News also honored his effort by placing him on its 1993-94 All-Bowl Team. He also returned four punts (for 10 yards), as he is a likely candidate to handle the chore in the future. He was selected CU's defensive back champion-of-the-week three times. He moved to free safety from cornerback for spring drills. 1991: Played in all 12 games, and started two games (Wyoming as the nickel back and Baylor at right corner) in earning his first letter. He set a Colorado record for the most interceptions by a freshman (four), returning one for 40 yards and a touchdown at Stanford (he had 111 return yards in all). He became the first freshman to ever lead CU in interceptions and the first non-starter to do so since 1964. He played 486 snaps from scrimmage, the most by any non-starter on the team, posting 22 tackles (including a tackle for loss and a pair of third down stops) and deflecting three passes. High School—As a senior, he was a SuperPrep All-Regional selection, named to the Dallas Morning News and Houston's Post's Top 100, and was a first-team all-state, all-area and all-district pick. He had seven interceptions his senior season to go with 74 tackles, but was a demolition expert returning kicks, as he had 686 yards on punt returns and 536 returning kickoffs, enabling him to be named the district's top return man two years in a row. Returned an opponent's two-point conversion try 100 yards for two points to complete his senior resume. All told, he had 18 career interceptions and amassed 2,214 career yards on punt and kickoff returns. Worthing was 5-4 in both his senior and junior years under coach Cogger Coverson. As a sophomore, he intercepted back-to-back passes in a game, which turned into 97- and 107-yard touchdown returns. Also played basketball (point guard, averaging 11.5 points and 10.1 assists per game as a senior).

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed first at left outside linebacker. He is 100 percent recovered from his knee injury, has bulked up to 230 pounds (from 198 when he arrived at CU), and enjoyed a fine spring. This could be his "break-out" season. 1993: Redshirted; he suffered cartilage and ligament damage in his right knee late in August drills, and underwent arthroscopic surgery. He could have returned for the conference season, but it was thought best to further rehab the knee and take the redshirt year. He was coming off a tremendous spring, as he had 18 tackles and six quarterback sacks. 1992: Played in 10 games and the Fiesta Bowl (seven at his position), as he lettered his true freshman season. He saw action for 89 snaps from scrimmage, and made the most of them, with nine tackles, four for losses (including three sacks, one for a safety against Baylor), and three third down stops. He also saw considerable action on CU's special teams, as he was credited with four knockdown blocks.

High School—As close to a unanimous All-American as you can get in high school, as he was a first-team selection by USA Today, Parade, SuperPrep, Who's Who, Blue Chip Report and Prep Football Report. He was the No. 1 rated player in the midlands by both Prep Football Report and SuperPrep (he was Prep Football's Midlands Defensive Player-of-the-Year). Closer to home, he was the Gatorade Circle-of-Champions Player-of-the-Year for Colorado, the Colorado Defensive Player-of-the-Year (Rocky Mountain News) and was the winner of the coveted Denver Post Gold Helmet Award. He was a first-team all-Colorado (all classes), all-state and all-Denver Prep League selection as a senior (he was honored as a first-teamer in the league on both offense and defense), when he was in on 133 tackles (86 solo), with 17 quarterback sacks, 11 fumble recoveries, four forced fumbles and three blocked kicks. On offense, he caught 13 passes for 101 yards and four touchdowns, and ran two reverses, both going for touchdowns. As a junior, when he garnered first-team all-state (TE), second-team all-state (OLB) and first-team all-league honors, he was in on 86 tackles with 15 sacks, seven recoveries, three forces and three blocked kicks. He was primarily a blocking tight end on offense, catching only a couple of passes

(one for a score). He played defensive end as a junior and senior and outside linebacker as a sophomore (posting 40 tackles and five sacks). He was a tackle on offense as a sophomore. JFK was 9-3 his senior year (lost in first round of playoffs) and posted a 9-2 mark his junior year (reaching the state quarterfinals) under coach Bruce Abeyta. Also lettered in basketball (forward), averaging 14 points and eight rebounds per game as a senior, when he was named all-state. He earned honorable mention recognition on McDonald's All-America team. Also a multi-event track performer, as he participated in relays and jumps (owning career bests of 6-5 in the high jump, 22-7 in the long jump and 47-8½ in the triple jump). 79 MATT JONES, OT

He has worked hard to lose over 25 pounds from last season. 1993: Saw action in two games (Baylor, Missouri), playing three plays. 1992: Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at offensive tackle.

1 VANCE JOSEPH, TB

5-10, 205, Sr., 2L, Marrero, La. (Archbishop Shaw)

College—This Season: Enters the fall listed second at tailback. He moved to the position from quarterback during spring practice, and rushed for 209 yards on 67 carries (3.1). 1993: Saw action in seven games plus the Aloha Bowl, mostly late in games with the exception of the Miami contest when he was called upon late in the first half. He completed 10-of-17 passes on the year for 114 yards and one touchdown (25 yards to James Kidd against Baylor). He has thrown 61 career passes without an interception. He was also the team's holder on all placement kicks. He participated in spring drills at 100 percent, as he was fully recovered from a rotator cuff injury in his (right) throwing arm. 1992: Redshirted; did not see any action. He was in the hunt for the starting quarterback role, but endured two-a-day practices with a sore throwing arm. It was later revealed that he had a few slight tears in his rotator cuff, and the decision was made to redshirt him so he could heal properly. A severely sprained ankle forced him to miss almost all of the Black & White Intrasquad game and the entire Alumni game during the spring, but he had played well up to that point. He was 13-of-33 for 243 yards and two touchdowns. 1991: Saw action in eight games (no starts), but had extensive action against Stanford and Oklahoma State in key situations and played all but the first two series against Kansas. He led CU to scores in 13 of 21 drives he engineered, a phenomenal percentage of 61.9 (12 of the scores were TD's). He came in for the injured Darian Hagan against Stanford, leading the Buffs to a TD the only drive he piloted, and also replaced a gimpy Hagan against Oklahoma State, leading the Buffs down the field for the game-winning score in the final seconds. Against Kansas, after Hagan was hurt early in the game, he came on to complete 7-of-11 passes for 85 yards while rushing eight times for 58 yards. He directed an eight-play, 80-yard drive in the final two minutes to rally CU to a 30-24 win. He rushed 25 times for 139 yards on the season and was third on the team in first downs earned with 22. He practiced the entire spring with the number one unit, as he was promoted to first-team while Hagan was in a rehabilitation program to recover from knee surgery. Enjoyed a fine spring, as he developed into a solid backup quarterback with the ability to work with the starters under pressure. In scrimmage/game situations, he completed 25 of 37 passes for 315 yards and four touchdowns. He completed 68 percent of his passes and was intercepted only twice. 1990: Saw action in four games, as he was pressed into duty in the midseason due to injuries to CU's top two quarterbacks. He showed flashes of brilliance while he was in those four games, completing 5-of-7 passes for 80 yards (and a touchdown) while rushing for 55 yards.

High School—As a senior, he garnered USA Today honorable mention All-America honors, in addition to earning all-West Bank, all-district and all-metro honors as a junior and senior. He completed 60 percent of his passes (39 of 65) for 738 yards and seven touchdowns his senior season, when he rushed 59 times for 368 yards and nine scores. He accomplished the above despite missing five games with a knee injury (at first, it was thought the injury was serious, but it turned out minor and he played the last seven games in a brace). Shaw averaged 40-plus points per game after his return, and he went on to play basketball that winter without the brace. He rushed for 946 yards as a junior and passed for 1,067, matching his sophomore totals of 950 yards rushing and 1,103 passing. Shaw was 37-6 in the three years that Joseph called the signals, including a 12-1 mark last season (losing in the state semifinals). Shaw was 12-3 his junior year and 13-2 his sophomore season, winning the state's 4A title under Coach Hank Tierney. He lettered four times in basketball (averaging 10.9 points per game as a senior) and played two years of baseball.

Academics—Majoring in business at Colorado. A two-time member of CU's "Academic Starters" team, and is on schedule to graduate in August.

Personal—Born Sept. 20, 1972 in Marrero, La. Brother (Mickey) played quarterback at Nebraska. As a 12-year-old, he was picked as "Mr. Biddy World," which goes to the best 11- or 12-year-old basketball player in the United States and five foreign countries which take part in the World Biddy Tournament.

ASK THE PLAYERS

Question: What would be your ESPN Sportscenter Highlight?

Gerald Ancar: "Catching a world-record carp with Clint Moore."

Norm Barnett: "It's the bottom of the ninth in game seven of the World Series, and I'm facing Nolan Ryan, who's pitching a no-hitter in a scoreless game. The count is 3-and-2 with two outs and he delivers an 85-mile-per-hour curve. I smack it out of the park to win the game, but as I round the bases, I see Tonya Harding waiting for me at home plate with a Louisville Slugger. But Barnett slides in under Harding's attempt to prevent me and my team from victory."

Tony Bertli: "I'm just driving down the highway minding my own business, when all of a sudden I'm noticed by NASCAR officials as a great driver. I am put on the circuit and I promptly win in all divisions of car racing, immediately crowned as the car-racing guru of all time. I am worshipped and a new religion is formed around racing and the whole world turns into redneck, cowboy-boot-wearing, names-on-their-belt burns like myself."

Ken Browne: "I'm summering in Toronto when Joe Carter calls me up to come on by and take some batting practice with the Blue Jays. He notices that I have natural skills at this baseball thing, tells Cito Gaston, and next thing you know I'm a regular. I stay the season, just miss on winning the triple crown, and in the seventh game of the World Series against the Colorado Rockies I hit the game-winning home run."

Jason Burney: "We've just scored with 30 seconds left in the national championship game, but we're still down by one and I'm the holder. Without the coaches knowing, I take the ball and head for the endzone, running over a defensive lineman and, of course, I score."

Shannon Clavette: "In the Orange Bowl, I make a goal-line stop late in the game that helps us win the national championship."

Pat Corcoran: "I have to emergency kickoff, wind up making the tackle, causing a fumble, recovering the ball, and take it in for a score. Then I kickoff again, and the same exact thing happens. Everybody wonders who this Corcoran guy is. The press gets hold of the story, and the WWF calls and the 'Mad Patter' is born."

Shay Davis: "I'm put in as a defensive back in the Big Eight championship game against Kansas and with time running out, I pick off my brother Van's pass. He was perfect on the day until that point, and I run it back for a touchdown. After I score, I run over and give my mom the ball and tell her dinner is on me that night."

Koy Delmer: "Bill Dance and I are in the finals of the Bass Masters Tournament. On the last day, I catch an 18-pound bass and five others over 10 pounds each to run away from the title."

Christian Fauria: "It's the national championship game. Kordell and Koy go down on tremendous cheap shots. Coach Mac is pacing, looking around for some guidance. Then, standing right in front of him is #86. He realizes he has one chance to win, so he puts me in to throw a bomb to the 6-foot-8 belly man, Derek West. I take the snap and of course, throw it 'southpaw.' West pulls it in and it's a touchdown, and everyone is going crazy. Sylvester Stallone is in the stands, sees my fighting spirit and has a brainstorm. He comes down to the sideline and wants to buy the rights to my life story and make Rocky VI. But I can't sign anything now. I'm going fishing with Adrian Karsten."

Chad Hammond: "I'm downfield blocking on a running play. Rashaan Salaam blazes past me, carrying the ball. He's got one man to beat, but he gets tackled. As he goes down, he laterals the ball to me and I score the game-winning touchdown."

John Hessler: "I'm asked to start on the defensive line against Nebraska in front of millions of people. Tommie Frazier fumbles the ball on our 10-yard-line and I scoop it up and run 90 yards for the game-winning touchdown."

Kerry Hicks: "The quarterback takes the snap, and he goes to pitch the ball behind him to the tailback. But I run over center and take the pitch full stride, run 95 yards for a touchdown and dunk the ball over the cross bar."

Darius Holland: "We win the national championship."

Greg Jones: "Making an interception in the national championship game and running it back for a touchdown and the win."

Jon Knutson: "There's 10 seconds left in the game. Knutson is in the huddle, the crowd is roaring. Ever since Kordell went down in the first quarter, Knutson has really picked up this passing offense. He calls the adjustments, down, set, go. Knutson rolls back, looks right, looks left and launches it. I can't believe it. He finds Barbara Billingsley (June Cleaver) wide open in the end zone for the touchdown. The crowd goes wild, and I'm carried off the field by a gathering of my favorite daytime talk show hosts."

Matt Lepsis: "Winning the gold medal in the discus in the Summer Olympics the same year we win the national championship in football."

Keith Miller: "I'm signed as a free agent by the Charlotte Hornets and I quickly earn a starting job alongside Alonzo Mourning and L.J. We make it to the NBA Finals and in the final seconds of game seven, we're down by one. I've already scored 45 points, and with the gun about to sound, Mugsy Bogues throws up a shot from half court. It's short, but I'm there to dunk the ball through the hoop and bring down the backboard and the standard and we win it all."

Andy Mitchell: "The day I made an open field tackle on Blake Anderson after he returned my punt for 40 yards."

Erik Mitchell: "When I played cornerback in the Aloha Bowl after working on it for only one week."

Clint Moore: "Winning the world sumo wrestling championship."

Stacy Patterson: "Sacking Tommie Frazier for a safety on the last play of the game to give us the win and the Big Eight title over Nebraska."

Steve Rosga: "It's the fourth quarter, Bufts against Miami. Chris Walsh drops back to pass, looks deep and thinks he finds an open receiver. But out of nowhere comes Steve Rosga. He jumps over the Miami receiver and picks it off, and takes it all the way for a touchdown and the national championship. Rosga's leaping ability lands him the star role in 'White Men Can't Jump 2.'"

Tim Ross: "It's the Orange Bowl, Colorado versus Notre Dame for the national championship. Notre Dame scores a late touchdown to go up 13-12 with a few seconds left. They think they have the game sealed, but they have to kick the PAT. They try it, but it is blocked. I chase down the ball, and after a mad scramble that lasted a minute, I run it back for the defensive two and CU wins, 14-13. Somewhere, Greg Biekert is watching the game, and he laughs."

Rashaan Salaam: "It's fourth and 15 late in the game at Michigan Stadium, and we're down by five. We're on our two-yard line, and with two seconds to go, Kordell pitches me the ball. I throw a 98-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook and the Bufts win the game."

Kyle Smith: "I would be accepting the Sports Illustrated 'Sportsperson-of-the-Year' award just after having won my record 15th consecutive tractor pull. I would also have just finished signing a contract with Dodge Truck to become the first member of their monster truck all-star team. Afterwards, Chris Fowler and I would go trout fishing in the mountains of Wyoming."

Bryan Stollenberg: "On the old center eligible play, I race down the middle of the field and catch a touchdown pass."

Ryan Sutter: "Anything at all, just as long as they say my name. But it would be nice if it was something positive."

Deren Tadlock: "An interception in the end zone against Michigan at Ann Arbor, and as I return it 105 yards for a touchdown, I've quieted the 100,000 fans, who are thoroughly stunned."

Melvin Thomas: "My highlight would be pancaking a Nebraska player on a fourth-and goal to clear the way for a touchdown and we win the game."

Derek West: "We're trailing by seven late in the Orange Bowl, and pinned deep in our territory. Coach Mac calls for the banned 'tumblerooski.' I pick up the ball on our five-yard line and with Barry Sanders-like moves, I ramble down the field, making skilled d-backs look like fools. Touchdown! We're down by one, and we elect to go with the tackle eligible. West gets the two! Unbelievable! Chris Berman wants the interview, but I have to wave him off. I'm on my way to Disneyworld with Elle MacPherson."

Allen Wilbon: "I've already had one. It was my hit on the kickoff return that started the brawl against Miami. But I'll shoot for a better one."

Kenny Wilkins: "The time I stripped the football in the Aloha Bowl."

High School—His is a most interesting story; he was held out of the ninth grade by his mother so he could work, which he did, working at a few odd jobs. He then enrolled in high school in 10th grade, working as the team manager for the football squad. He went on to play two seasons (1990, 1991), but because he did not attend the ninth grade, was behind on classes he needed to graduate. He remained in school in 1992-93 to meet all the College—This Season: Enters the fall listed third at center. 1993: Redshirted; did not see any action. Practiced most of the season at center.

But his athletic "clock" had started as he played each season from 1988 through 1991). He did practice with his team to keep in shape. Regardless, he was still a Who's Who All-American, and SuperPrep placed him on its All-Farwest Region team. As a junior, he was a first-team all-league, all-city and an all-state underclassmen performer. De La Salle was 12-1 his junior year and 13-0 his sophomore season, claiming the North Coast Section Championship under coach Bob Ladacouer. He played over 700 snaps from scrimmage, and was a very steady performer most of the season. 1991: Played in six games overall, including one start (Kansas State) for a gimpy Craig Anderson at left offensive tackle. He had enough plays (114) to earn his first letter. Enjoyed a fine spring practicing with the first unit. Has gained 35 pounds since his arrival at CU. 1990: Redshirted.

High School—As a senior, he was a first-team all-state selection (Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News), and he made the News' all-classifications all-state team. He teamed with Charles Johnson to become just the fourth set of receivers on the same team to each eclipse 1,000 receiving yards in the same season. He set a single-game record with 11 receptions (for 186 yards) at Baylor, but Johnson tied the mark three games later against Missouri. College—This Season: Projected as an offensive tackle in his first season of collegiate football.

High School—Earned first-team all-CIF Division 2 honors at outside linebacker as a senior, when he also was afforded Prep Football Report All-West Team honors. He earned all-county honors and was selected as the defensive player-of-the-year for the Sunset League (he was an all-league selection as a junior and senior, HBHS was 13-1 his senior year, finishing as the Division II runner-up, and was 6-5 his junior season under coach George Pascoe. Also lettered three times and starred in volleyball, as he led Huntington Beach to a 23-0 record as a junior and to the CIF championship (all divisions; he was a middle blocker and was heavily recruited in that sport as well).

Academics—He is interested in engineering as his major at Colorado, and also has an interest in business. Owned a 3.7 grade point average in high school and was named an Orange County Scholar Athlete (he recorded a 1220 SAT score).

1993-IN-REVIEW

COLORADO 36, TEXAS 14

Game One, September 4, 1993 (Attendance—52,125)

BOULDER—Kordell Stewart passed for 246 yards and three touchdowns and Lamont Warren rushed for 110 yards and another score to lead the No. 11 Colorado Buffaloes to a 36-14 win over the Texas Longhorns.

CU never trailed in the game, as Stewart threw his first two TD passes to Charles Johnson (35 yards, late in the first quarter) and Michael Westbrook (16 yards, early in the second quarter) to give the Buffs a 14-0 lead. Phil Brown's eight-yard run a couple of series later sliced the CU lead to 14-7, but Colorado marched 64 yards in 12 plays with Stewart hitting Christian Fauria with a seven-yard TD pass with just 15 seconds left in the half to put CU back up by two scores, 21-7, at halftime.

Chris Hudson's second interception of the game, late in the third quarter, helped to put the game away for the Buffs, as the junior raced 21 yards untouched into the end zone for his second career touchdown, giving CU a 28-7 lead with 23 seconds left in the third quarter.

The Buffs had almost a perfect balance on offense, rushing for 270 yards and passing for 260, with the 530 yards the third most ever in a season opener. Texas gained 508 yards, the most on the CU defense since 1984, but were forced into six turnovers which led to 21 points.

COLORADO 45, BAYLOR 21

Game Two, September 11, 1993 (Attendance—50,281)

BOULDER—Charles Johnson scored three touchdowns and became Colorado's all-time leading receiver and Kordell Stewart decimated the Baylor secondary for the second straight year as the No. 10 Buffaloes upended the No. 24 Bears, 45-21.

The Buffs rolled to a 21-0 lead with just over five minutes left in the first quarter, as CU turned two early Baylor turnovers into immediate touchdowns. It was evident most of the breaks would go CU's way, as when James Hill fumbled on the Bear 10-yard line, the ball bounced into the end zone where it was recovered by Johnson. That play made it 21-0, as it followed a Lamont Warren two-yard scoring run and a 69-yard pass from Stewart to Johnson, which enabled C.J. to pass Monte Huber in career receiving yards at Colorado. The duo worked their magic again on the final play of the half, when Stewart launched a bomb from inside midfield to the endzone, where Michael Westbrook tipped it into the hands of Johnson, giving CU a 35-0 intermission lead.

Baylor scored all of its points and earned 203 of its yards against CU's second- and third-teamers in the second half. Stewart continued his mastery of the Bears, as he went 30-of-35 for 472 yards and five TD's in his career against Baylor.

STANFORD 41, COLORADO 37

Game Three, September 18, 1993 (Attendance—52,100)

STANFORD, Calif.—Steve Stenstrom's controversial seven-yard touchdown pass to Tony Cline with eight seconds left in the game rallied No. 20 Stanford to a 41-37 win over No. 8 Colorado.

The third down play saw CU's Dwayne Davis apparently knock the ball out of Cline's grasp in the endzone, but the officials ruled otherwise and the play stood, enabling the Cardinal to rally from a 37-27 deficit in the final four minutes.

The Buffaloes rallied from a pair of 11-point deficits themselves, taking the lead for the first time at 24-21 in the third quarter on a two-yard run by quarterback Kordell Stewart. Stanford regained the lead on its next possession, but the fourth and fifth rushing TDs of the night by the Buffs, scored by Rashaan Salaam and Stewart, seemingly had the Buffs safely ahead.

Colorado gained 551 yards on offense, the first time in its history the offense gained 500 or more yards in three straight games. Stanford amassed 471, with 410 coming through the air. CU's Charles Johnson caught eight passes for 172 yards and seven first downs, earning Big Eight Conference player-of-the-week honors.

MIAMI 35, COLORADO 29

Game Four, September 25, 1993 (Attendance—52,391)

BOULDER—Miami held off a furious Colorado rally in the final minutes, as the No. 3 Hurricanes defeated the No. 13 Buffaloes, 35-29, in a game that was delayed some 20 minutes in the first half due to a bench-clearing brawl.

Miami built a 21-6 halftime lead and extended it to 28-6 early in the third quarter before Colorado took over control of the game down the stretch. Trailing 35-15 with 8:50 left in the game, the Buffs marched 73 yards in nine plays, with Charles Johnson catching a seven-yard touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to cut the deficit to 35-22. After CU's Deren Tadlock recovered an onside kick, the Buffs used five plays to drive 36 yards, capped by a five-yard TD run by James Hill to pull to within 35-29.

Chris Hudson made one of the defensive plays of the year on the next series, stripping the ball from Miami's James Stewart at the CU 36, giving the Buffs offense one last chance to catch the 'Canes. The Buffs drove to the Miami 11 with less than a minute remaining, but a questionable face mask call on CU amounted to an 18-yard penalty, and on fourth down, Stewart's pass to Johnson was broken up with 12 seconds to go.

The Buffs put 29 points and 420 yards on the vaunted Miami defense, while the Hurricanes amassed 382 yards and clicked on 9-of-15 third down tries.

COLORADO 30, MISSOURI 18

Game Five, October 9, 1993 (Attendance—52,147)

BOULDER—Lamont Warren rushed for 137 yards and a touchdown along with a reception for another score to lead the No. 21 Colorado Buffaloes to a 30-18 win over the Missouri Tigers.

Both teams got off to a slow start on the afternoon, which saw the temperature hover around the 30-degree mark all day. The Buffs moved to a 13-3 halftime lead on the strength of two Mitch Berger field goals and a 28-yard touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to Warren.

Colorado put the game away in the third quarter with a pair of touchdowns. Stewart capped an 84-yard drive with a one-yard run, and on CU's very next possession, Warren polished off a 68-yard drive with a 12-yard dash up the middle. The two quick scores put Colorado up, 27-3, with 6:37 left in the third quarter. Missouri tacked on a couple of scores in the fourth quarter, but the CU lead was never seriously threatened.

For the fourth time in five games, the Buffs gained over 500 yards in offense (526), and Colorado rushed for 343 yards, its most in two seasons. The CU defense limited Missouri to just 41 rushing yards, as Colorado won for the ninth straight time in the series.

COLORADO 27, OKLAHOMA 10

Game Six, October 16, 1993 (Attendance—64,213)

NORMAN, Okla.—Lamont Warren rushed for a career-high 182 yards with Colorado dominating the trenches on both sides of the ball as the No. 20 Buffaloes upended the No. 9 Oklahoma Sooners, 27-10.

Colorado amassed 499 yards in total offense, its most ever against an Oklahoma defense, dominating the line of scrimmage in such a manner that the Buffs had the ball for almost 25 minutes in the second half. Defensively, the Buffs turned in their best performance to date of the season, allowing just 286 yards and only 92 rushing, the fewest yards an OU team had ever rushed for against a CU team.

The Buffaloes zoomed to a 20-0 lead midway through the second quarter on the strength of two Charles Johnson TD receptions. The first came on a nice 64-yard catch-and-run from Kordell Stewart in the first quarter, which put CU up 13-0 and followed a two-yard scoring run by Rashaan Salaam. The second came on a spectacular play, as Warren slipped on the halfback option but still got enough mustard on the ball to get it 34 yards downfield into the end zone, where Johnson made the catch on the ground after being interfered with by a Sooner defender.

Oklahoma cut the lead to 20-10 late in the third quarter, but James Hill's four-yard run capped a 13-play drive with 4:35 left in the game to put the game away for CU. The contest ended with the Buffs inside the Oklahoma 5, and an earlier drive was stopped at the OU 1 on fourth down.

COLORADO 16, KANSAS STATE 16

Game Seven, October 23, 1993 (Attendance—33,728)

MANHATTAN, Kan.—Tate Wright's 35-yard field goal with 21 seconds left in the game enabled No. 25 Kansas State to tie No. 16 Colorado, 16-16, snapping the Buffaloes eight-game winning streak in the series.

Colorado had its chances early, but could come away with only three Mitch Berger field goals in as many penetrations of the Wildcats' 20-yard line in the game's first 17 minutes. The game itself was two different contests, as the Buffs dominated the first half statistically but owned only a 9-0 lead at intermission. CU had decisive advantages in total yards (239-36), rushing yards (73-1) and first downs (10-1), along with possessing the ball for 18:16.

Most of those figures were reversed in the second half, when K-State made its comeback. KSU's Chad May threw a pair of short touchdown passes, the first to Andre Coleman for seven yards to slice the lead to 9-6. The extra point was blocked by Shannon Clavelle, a play that proved big on the afternoon. His second TD pass, to Brad Seib, with 9:57 left in the game to give the Wildcats their first lead at 13-9.

Dennis Collier picked off a pass batted in the air by Jon Knutson deep in KSU territory, with James Hill scoring from one-yard out with 3:57 left, putting the Buffs back up, 16-13. Kansas State then drove 62 yards on the next possession, with the key play a May-to-Kevin Lockett 44-yard pass on a fourth-and-15 play, setting up Wright's game-tying kick.

NEBRASKA 21, COLORADO 17

Game Eight, October 30, 1993 (Attendance—52,277)

BOULDER—The No. 6 ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers stormed to an early 21-3 lead and then held off a furious Colorado rally in beating the No. 20 Buffaloes, 21-17.

Corey Dixon's 68-yard punt return after the Huskers stopped CU's first offensive series set Nebraska up at the Colorado 4. Calvin Jones scored on Nebraska's first play from scrimmage for a 7-0 Husker lead. After a Mitch Berger 22-yard field goal sliced the lead to 7-3, Jones added a touchdown run from 10 yards out and Tommie Frazier hooked up with Dixon on a 60-yard touchdown pass for the 21-3 advantage after the first quarter.

Rashaan Salaam's 15-yard touchdown run early in the second period cut the lead to 21-10. That would be the last scoring for almost 38 minutes of game time, when Salaam scored for a yard out with 2:54 left in the contest. Berger's PAT kick knocked the deficit to 21-17, and the Buffs still had two timeouts remaining.

The Buff defense stopped Nebraska cold on the next series, forcing the Huskers to punt with 1:53 left. Chris Hudson's 19-yard return set CU up at its own 47 for the final chance at overtaking the Cornhuskers.

Kordell Stewart hooked up with Christian Fauria for 13 yards on the first play of the drive, but was intercepted by Johnny Reece at the Nebraska 30 on the second. With Colorado out of timeouts, Nebraska was able to run out the clock.

The teams posted similar statistics in most areas, but the decided edge came in return yards, where Nebraska held a 115-26 advantage.

Game Nine, November 7, 1993 (Attendance—30,200)

STILLWATER, Okla.—Kordell Stewart threw for 328 yards and three touchdowns in becoming CU's all-time leading passer, piloting the No. 23 Colorado Buffaloes to a 31-14 win over host Oklahoma State.

The Cowboys scored first, taking a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter on a John Jefferson one-yard touchdown run (following a CU turnover). The Buffaloes would answer with 31 consecutive points, with three of the scores coming in the second quarter. Stewart scored from 17 yards out on a dazzling run, with Mitch Berger's PAT kick making it 7-7. Berger drilled a 34-yard field goal minutes later to put CU ahead for good, 10-7.

Stewart tied the all-time passing yards mark right before halftime, as he hooked up with Charles Johnson for a 26-yard touchdown play. Johnson made an acrobatic tip of the ball, pulled it in and scooted into the end zone with just 13 seconds left before the half to make it 17-7. The play gave Stewart 3,912 career passing yards, equalling that of Steve Vogel, who set the mark between 1981-84.

Stewart took control of the record in the second half, and added nicely to it with a 54-yard TD bomb to Johnson and a 72-yard touchdown play by Michael Westbrook.

The Buffs outgained the Cowboys, 448-279, on the afternoon, as CU won for the fifth straight time in the series. Westbrook and Johnson each hauled in six passes in excess of 120 yards from Stewart.

COLORADO 38, KANSAS 14

Game Ten, November 13, 1993 (Attendance—52,139)

BOULDER—Colorado gained a season-high 598 total yards on offense and turned in its top defensive performance of the season as the Buffaloes stormed to a 38-14 win over Kansas.

Mitch Berger's 24-yard field goal broke a scoreless tie with just over five minutes left in the first half, giving CU a 3-0 lead. The Buffs then worked their magic once again in the two-minute offense, scoring with 57 seconds left before halftime on a Lamont Warren 15-yard run. It was the seventh score in 10 times on the year in the two-minute drill, and the 53rd time in 72 tries since 1988.

The third quarter was a wild one, producing four touchdowns in under six minutes. Rashaan Salaam made two touchdown runs to counter KU's June Henley, who scored on a 17-yard run and a 100-yard kickoff return. When the smoke cleared, CU maintained its 24-14 lead into the fourth quarter. Kordell Stewart and James Hill added touchdown runs in the final period to account for the final score.

CU enjoyed its best day on the ground in over two years, rushing for 378 yards. All told, CU had 61 percent of its plays (51 of 84) go for five or more yards, with 25 going for 10 or more. The defense limited the potent KU offense to just 235 yards.

COLORADO 21, IOWA STATE 16

Game Eleven, November 20, 1993 (Attendance—23,797)

AMES, Iowa—Lamont Warren ran for two touchdowns and passed for another to lead No. 18 Colorado to a 21-16 win over Iowa State in the regular season finale for both teams.

Colorado never trailed in the game, taking a 14-0 lead in the second quarter on Warren's touchdown runs of three and 21 yards. The Cyclones got on the board at the halftime gun, when Ty Stewart nailed a 47-yard field goal to cut the lead to 14-3.

Things got a little interesting in the fourth quarter, as Jim Knott scored from four yards out to pull Iowa State within 14-9. The Cyclones went for two but the Buffs snubbed out the rushing attempt. It took Colorado two plays to answer the score on the Buffs' next possession. Rashaan Salaam gained 15 yards over the right side, setting up Warren's 49-yard touchdown pass on the option to Charles Johnson. It was Johnson's ninth TD catch of the season, a school record, and the second from Warren.

Knott added a two-yard run midway through the quarter to cut the CU margin to 21-16. The Buffaloes drove to the ISU 40 on their next possession before stalling, and Iowa State's last rally was doused when Kerry Hicks and Chris Hudson tackled Calvin Branch for a fourth down loss with 1:35 remaining.

The Buffs outgained Iowa State, 429-411, as the Cyclones passed for only 34 yards on the afternoon. CU closed the regular season with a 7-3-1 mark while Iowa State finished with a 3-8 record.

FOLSOM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after the legendary CU Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the home of Buffs ever since. This will be the 71st season the Buffs will play their home games on the "hilltop."

It was dedicated on Oct. 11, 1924, as CU defeated Regis College, 31-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street, honoring the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. The original Colorado Stadium had a seating capacity of 30,000, tripling that of the old Gamble Field.

With the addition of an upper deck in 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level pressbox facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to the present level of 51,748.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with AstroTurf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on Sept. 18 (the Buffs won 56-13). The original AstroTurf surface was replaced with a "new rug" for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, "Astroturf-8" was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school's history.

COLORADO VS. NO. 1 TEAMS

The Buffs are 0-9 in their history when they have come up against the number one ranked team. Colorado has played only three teams with number one rankings — Nebraska (0-3); Oklahoma (0-5) and Southern Cal (0-1). In seven of these games, the Buffs have given the nation's best a solid run for their money. Here's a look at each CU-#1 matchup (both AP & UPI/Coaches unless otherwise noted):

Nov. 4, 1956 in Boulder

Oklahoma	6	0	14	7	-	27
COLORADO	7	12	0	0	-	19

Nebraska	7	7	48	7	-	69

Oct. 24, 1987 at Norman

COLORADO	0	6	0	0	-	6
Oklahoma	10	0	7	7	-	24

NOTE: Colorado is 1-1 as the nation's No. 1 team, losing 21-6 to Notre Dame in the 1990 Orange Bowl and defeating Notre Dame 10-9 in the 1991 Orange Bowl.

DID YOU KNOW . . . That despite not having beaten a #1 team, Colorado has twice knocked Oklahoma out of the #1 slot? CU's efforts in 1957 and 1975 knocked the Sooners from #1 to #2 in the AP poll.

CU'S 1990 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1990 edition of the University of Colorado football team accomplished two of the biggest "firsts" in its storied history. The Buffaloes played the nation's toughest schedule and posted an 11-1-1 record overall, with the win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl cementing the school's first national championship. For the second straight year, CU logged a 7-0 record in league play, marking the first time that the Buffs had claimed the Big Eight Conference title in back-to-back years.

Colorado had flirted with the national championship just one season earlier, owning an 11-0 regular season record and entering the Orange Bowl ranked as the nation's No. 1 team. A 21-6 loss to Notre Dame, however, ended CU's dream season and the Buffs finished No. 4 in the national polls. Little did anyone know at the time that the Buffaloes would have the chance to redeem themselves.

Questions prior to the start of the 1990 season included, "What do you do for an encore?" and "Is Colorado for real or was last season a fluke?" Coach Bill McCartney didn't set winning the national championship as the team goal; winning back-to-back Big Eight titles was what he wanted his men to aim for. Shooting for all the marbles includes too many variables that are out of a team's control, while one holds its own destiny in pursuit of a league title. McCartney is not the kind to set a national title as a goal, anyway.

In the Associated Press preseason poll, the Buffs were ranked No. 5; it's first opponent, Tennessee in the Disneyland Pigskin Classic, was ranked No. 8.

Colorado overcame three first-quarter turnovers against the Volunteers (that was almost one-fourth of the entire turnover total of the season before) to lead 24-10 early in the fourth quarter. The Buffs couldn't sustain the lead, and Tennessee caught CU with the game ending in a 31-31 tie.

In game two, Eric Bieniemy scored on fourth-and-goal from the one with 12 seconds remaining to give CU a 21-17 win over Stanford. This was alarming in that Stanford had the worst record in 1989 of the five non-league teams on CU's schedule, along with the fact that the Cardinals led 14-0 at halftime and had stifled the high-powered CU offense.

Illinois dealt CU what proved to be its only loss of the season on Sept. 15, as the 23-22 defeat to the Illini sent the Buffs reeling to No. 20 in the polls. A game that Colorado should have won (CU led, 17-3, in the second quarter) turned into a loss and gave CU a 1-1-1 start. Talk of 1989 being a fluke started to surface, that CU had won only because of emotion in response to the death of quarterback Sal Aunese.

The next two games put the Buffaloes back on track, and ended talk that Colorado was not for real. Colorado's 29-22 win at No. 22 Texas, with CU rallying from a 22-14 deficit early in the fourth quarter, was the game that McCartney and the team point to as the turning point of the season. A 20-14 win over No. 12 Washington a week later reinforced the national opinion of the Buffaloes, as CU took over the No. 12 spot in the polls after its defeat of the Huskies.

Colorado came through the fierce non-league portion of its schedule with a 3-1-1 record and prepared to defend its Big Eight crown earned the season before. The Buffs topped Missouri, 33-31, in their league opener amid controversy of the now famous "fifth down." CU's Charles Johnson scored the game-winning touchdown as time expired on what turned out to be fifth down. The play, created through an incredible mistake by the officiating crew, and unnoticed by Missouri game administration and virtually everyone in the stadium, tainted the CU win and hurt the Buffs' image. Even though the Buffs defeated Iowa State, 28-12, the following week, Colorado had dropped back to No. 14 in the rankings though it sported a 5-1-1 record.

Still, the Buffaloes were off to a 2-0 start in league play, and improved to 3-0 with a 41-10 drubbing of Kansas at Lawrence in week three of the Big Eight season. The win pushed CU back into the top 10 (No. 10), with the Big Reds next up on the schedule.

Colorado knocked off Oklahoma, ranked No. 22 nationally, 32-23 to deal the one-time fourth-ranked Sooners their third straight defeat. The Buffs trailed, 14-6, late in the first half, with OU in position to kick a field goal. Greg Thomas skied to block the attempt, and quarterback Darian Hagan took over to lead the Buffs to a touchdown right before the halftime gun. Bieniemy broke free for a 69-yard TD run in the third quarter, and the Buffs pulled away in the final 15 minutes to dispose of the first of the Big Reds.

A week later, Colorado, now No. 9, traveled to Lincoln and defeated No. 3 Nebraska, 27-12, in rainy, cold and windy conditions. Bieniemy overcame five fumbles to score four touchdowns in the fourth quarter to rally the Buffaloes to the win. The end result was that Colorado had defeated both Oklahoma and Nebraska for the second straight year, and in back-to-back weeks, no less. The Buffs, with an 8-1-1 record, zoomed to No. 4 in the nation in the polls, and needed just one win in their last two games to get back to the Orange Bowl.

The Buffs steamrolled both Oklahoma State (41-22) and Kansas State (64-3) to finish the regular season at 10-1-1. The wins also marked the second straight year that CU took the Big Eight title with an undefeated 7-0 record in league play.

When Penn State knocked off Notre Dame hours after CU's win over K-State, the Buffs became the nation's new No. 1 team. Thus, as was the case in 1989, the Buffaloes entered the Orange Bowl to defend the nation's top ranking against Notre Dame, the team that lost to hand CU the No. 1 claim.

Colorado had the rare chance to play for the national championship a second straight year, and this time around, the Buffs made the most of their opportunity. Colorado overcame the loss of Hagan and Kanavis McGhee to injuries in the first half, taking the lead for good in the third quarter in defeating the Irish, 10-9. The win kicked off a wild celebration by some 20,000-plus CU fans in Miami and hundreds of thousands back home in Colorado.

McCartney's ninth Colorado team attained its goals of claiming the Big Eight title in back-to-back years, and surpassed it by winning the national championship. In the process, CU established itself among the elite in college football.

RETIRED NUMBERS

#24 BYRON "WHIZZER" WHITE

Colorado's first All-American and one of the greatest students in the history of the school, Byron (Whizzer) White, retired as a justice of the Supreme Court in March, 1993, after serving 31 years on the nation's high court.

White made all the All-American teams after a brilliant 1937 season in which he led CU to an 8-0 record and Cotton Bowl bid as he set national records with 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points. Those marks, erased nationally only after colleges went to 10- and 11-game schedules, set CU records. The scoring mark still stands.

White was a Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, two-time All-Pro halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, leading graduate of the Yale Law School in 1946, decorated naval intelligence officer in World War II, leading Denver attorney, and deputy attorney general for the United States. White is a member of the NFL Hall-of-Fame, the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall-of-Fame, and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team."

#67 JOE ROMIG

Romig, a two-time All-American selection, is a member of the Big Eight Hall of Fame and the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. Now a senior research associate in radio physics in Boulder, Romig was the Buffs' 1961 team captain and the United Press International Lineman of the year. Romig had no peers as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle linebacker position behind a four-man line. Fast and strong, he was consistently in on most of CU's tackles.

Offensively, Romig developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Like White, he was an inspirational leader gifted with extraordinary physical and mental abilities.

Romig was a tremendous student, logging straight A's in his last six semesters and building a 3.9 grade-point average. He was also a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Scholar. A Rhodes Scholar, Joe received his master's degree in physics at Oxford University in England and a doctorate in physics at Colorado in 1975. He is a member of the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team."

#11 BOBBY ANDERSON

Anderson set 18 single-game, single-season and career marks during his three-season career with the Buffs along with earning All-Big Eight and All-American honors.

A professional player with Denver (the team's No. 1 draft choice), Washington and New England, Anderson started his CU career as a quarterback but switched to tailback for the third game of his senior season (1969). In his career, he rushed for 2,729 yards and had over 5,000 yards in total offense.

Anderson concluded his Colorado career with a 254-yard rushing effort in the 1969 Liberty Bowl as the Buffs beat Alabama 47-33. He currently is a Denver-area businessman, and has worked several years for KOA-Radio handling pre- and post-game shows on the CU Football Network. He is a member of CU's "All-Century Team."

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

The University of Colorado selected an "All-Century Football Team," as public balloting in 1989 tabbed 11 All-Americans among the top 25 selected to the 100-year squad.

Over 6,200 ballots were received in the public selection process, with over 150,000 votes cast from those ballots. Former CU players pared a list of 881 lettermen down to 118, which were in turn presented to the public for the final team selection.

Byron "Whizzer" White, the U.S. Supreme Court Justice who was CU's first All-American (1937), received 5,812 of a possible 6,265 votes. Bobby Anderson, who starred at both quarterback and tailback between 1967 and 1969, was the second leading vote-getter with 5,636, and two-way-star Joe Romig, who led CU to its first outright Big Eight Championship in 1961, was third with 5,145. White (#24), Anderson (#11) and Romig (#67) are the only Buffs to ever have their numbers retired.

One other player topped the 5,000 vote mark, as flashy Cliff Branch, whose name still frequently appears in the CU record book and who played a big part in the Buffs' No. 3 national ranking of 1971, captured 5,111 votes. The player with the fifth most votes, 3,989, was the only active Buff at the time to make the top 25, tailback Eric Bieniemy (a junior in 1989).

Joining White, Anderson and Romig as All-Americans on the century squad were Dick Anderson ('67), Pete Brock ('75), Mark Haynes ('79), Dave Logan ('75), Herb Orvis ('71) and Bob Stransky ('57).

Four players in the early years of CU football made the team, led by Walt Franklin, who played center and end between 1917 and 1921. Back Lee Willard ('21), Judge Hatfield Chilson ('25) and guard Bill McGlone ('26) round out the quartet which represents the formative seasons of CU football, when the team was known as the "Silver and Gold."

Other familiar names on the team include Hale Irwin, who starred at defensive back in the mid-60's but gained his fame on the PGA Tour; John Stearns, another pivotal player of the 1971 team who went on to be a star catcher with the New York Mets; Dave Logan, a veteran of 10-plus NFL seasons and current sportstalk celebrity in Denver; Carroll Hardy, who played in the early 1950's and is the only man ever to pinch-hit for

John Wooten

John Stearns

Ted Williams; and John Wooten, one of the first black players at CU who has spent several years in the scouting department with the NFL Dallas Cowboys.

Listed below are the 25 members of the University of Colorado All-Century (1890-1989) Football Team, selected by lettermen and the public over a three-month voting period. Another 28 players were selected to an honorable mention team:

SPRING FOOTBALL HISTORY

Spring football has been unique at Colorado for a couple of reasons. First, the Buffaloes used to play the oldest alumni game in the country, and second, Colorado actually plays two spring games.

Spring practice has for the most part ended with a game between the Colorado Varsity and Alumni. Back at the turn of the century, an Alumni team usually served as the season opener for the varsity (13 times all told, with the Varsity owning an 11-0-2 edge in those games). The Varsity held a 20-3 edge in the old format of the spring series, which started back in 1953 under then head coach Dal Ward. After a pair of games, the series became dormant until 1963 when it was revived by Eddie Crowder. There was no game between 1974 and 1976, and the 1978 game was cancelled due to a blizzard.

A new format for the Varsity-Alumni game (implemented in 1988) had the alumni playing in the first and third quarters, with the first team of the varsity playing the second and fourth quarters. They were pitted against the second- and third-team members of the varsity, resulting in a competitive and fun game. The alumni and first-team varsity always wore black. This format was discontinued following 1992 for competitive reasons.

The all-time results of the Varsity-Alumni game:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1953 — Varsity, 6-0		2,300	1981 — Varsity, 24-0		3,369
1954 — Varsity, 7-6		1,200	1982 — Varsity, 35-15		4,144
1963 — Alumni, 14-6		11,500	1983 — Varsity, 42-0		3,804
1964 — Alumni, 10-7		10,000	1984 — Varsity, 14-6		4,023
1965 — Varsity, 13-12		6,000	1985 — Varsity, 24-0		4,211
1966 — Varsity, 23-6		10,500	1986 — Varsity, 31-7		3,855
1967 — *Varsity, 29-16		3,500	1987 — Varsity, 24-0		2,235

*—played in Denver due to stadium expansion; #—First-team varsity and alumni wore black jerseys, remainder of varsity white jerseys.

An intrasquad game was started by Bill McCartney in 1987 and was dubbed the "Black and White Game." The team is divided by the coaching staff into two units of equal strength. The tradition of the game is that the winners get steak and crab at training table; the losers get franks and beans. A look at this series:

Year	Score	Year	Score
1987 — Black, 6-3		1991 — Black, 28-9
1988 — White, 7-3		1992 — Black, 22-19
1989 — Black, 14-10		1993 — Black, 17-7
1990 — White, 14-10		1994 — White, 14-7

The current format for the spring game is to pit the first-team offense and defense against the remainder of the squad. The results of this series:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1993 — White, 24-13		2,500	1994 — Black, 45-3		1,650

One of the most emotional moments in CU football history came at halftime of the 1989 spring game, when the varsity and alumni saluted cancer-stricken quarterback Sal Aunese (center). Aunese passed away on Sept. 23 later than same year.

MEDIA HISTORY

Throughout the history of University of Colorado athletics, three newspapers (Boulder Camera, Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News) and KOA-Radio have been, year-in and year-out, the ones to turn to for coverage of CU sports. BOWL HISTORY

1938 COTTON BOWL

Rice 28, Colorado 14

Jan. 1, 1938 at Dallas, Texas

Colorado made its first bowl appearance ever, but the Buffs fell short to Rice 28-14, in the second annual Cotton Bowl. It was a one-man show for both teams, as All-Americans Byron "Whizzer" White (Colorado) and Ernie Lain (Rice) dominated for their respective squads. White was involved in both Colorado scores and Lain in all four Owl touchdowns.

Colorado led 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, when White threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Joe Antonio for the first TD, and then returned an interception 47 yards for a score minutes later. Rice battled back and scored 21 second-quarter points to take a 21-14 lead at the half. Lain threw two touchdowns and ran for another.

The Owls added another TD as the third period came to an even close when Joe Steene caught an eleven-yard pass from Lain. Lain and White were both named the outstanding players of the game.

Dal Ward's Buffs got first half touchdowns by John Bayuk, Howard Cook and Boyd Dowler to take the seemingly safe halftime lead. But Frank Howard's Tigers roared back to go ahead by 21-20 with 11:12 left in the game on a nine-yard run by fullback Bob Spooner.

But the Buffs sucked it up and drove 53 yards for the winning score after a Clemson onside kick attempt following the TD had failed. Eddie Dove carried four times and Bayuk three in the drive, with Bayuk getting the TD from the one-yard line with 7:13 left to play. Ellwin Indorf's kick gave CU its final winning margin. But it still took a pass interception at the Colorado 17-yard line by Bob Stransky to nail down the decision.

1962 ORANGE BOWL

Louisiana State 25, Colorado 7

Jan. 1, 1962 at Miami, Florida

Jittery Colorado was out-classed by LSU's smooth football hordes, and the Buffs lost a 25-7 decision in the 28th Orange Bowl Classic before 62,391 onlookers.

Coach Paul Dietzel's SEC Champions spotted Colorado an early 7-5 lead on Buff defender Loren Schweninger's 59-yard pass interception return for a score, then methodically dismantled the Big Seven Champions.

LSU took the lead for good in the second period, marching 82 yards for the score with Chuck Crawford going in from the one with 8:57 left in the first half to give the Tigers an 11-7 halftime margin.

The Tigers scored twice in the third period to put the game away quickly, going 43 yards after a poor Charlie McBride punt and blocking another McBride punt for a touchdown just as the third quarter ended.

Sonny Grandelius' Buffs managed only 143 yards in total offense against the LSU "Chinese Bandit" defense, while the Tigers got 343 yards. CU had come into the game with a 9-1 mark, losing to Utah and winning all seven Big Eight games.

1957 ORANGE BOWL

Colorado 27, Clemson 21

Jan. 1, 1957 at Miami, Florida

Big Seven runner-up Colorado stormed out of the chute and had ACC champ Clemson down 20-0 at the half as 72,552 fans yawned and went for refreshments at the 23rd Orange Bowl Classic.

But a lot of those drinks were spilled in the second half as Clemson rallied to take a 21-20 lead in the final period before the resurgent Buffs buckled up and drove for the winning score to take their first bowl triumph in history by 27-21.

1967 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Colorado 31, Miami, Fla. 21

Dec. 23, 1967 at Houston, Texas

Soph quarterback Bobby Anderson ignored a painful ankle problem and ignited Colorado's 31-21 Bluebonnet Bowl win over Miami of Florida in Rice Stadium.

The 19-year-old Boulder-bred signal caller led the Buffs on an 80-yard TD march in the third period to give the Herd a 17-14 lead. Then, after the Hurricanes had gone back into the lead again, Anderson sped 38 yards for a touchdown with 6:55 left in the game to put CU back ahead by 24-21. Anderson then took the Buffs 34 yards for another score with 1:02 to play after Isaac Howard had picked off a Miami pass at the Hurricane 34-yard line.

Anderson was the complete player in winning game MVP honors, running for 108 yards on 17 carries, scoring two touchdowns on runs of 38 and 2 yards, and passing for 49 yards on 5 of 10 attempts. Oddly, Anderson did not start the game, giving way to fleet Dan Kelley because of his bothersome ankle. Bobby entered the game in the second period with Miami ahead, 14-7.

1969 LIBERTY BOWL

Colorado 47, Alabama 33

Dec. 13, 1969 at Memphis, Tennessee

All-American tailback Bobby Anderson and his herd of Bison stamped into Memphis and outslugged Alabama, 47-33, before 50,042 fans and a nationwide television audience. It was the first post-season appearance by CU since the 1967 Bluebonnet Bowl and showcased Colorado's return to national prominence.

Anderson, a bullish 6-0, 208-pounder from Boulder, capped his All-America campaign by rushing for a Liberty Bowl record 254 yards and scoring three touchdowns. It gave him a total of 5,017 yards in total offense for his career and enabled him to become the first Big Eight player ever to hit the 5,000-yard mark for a career.

Fullback Ward Walsh scored twice on short runs, Dave Haney kicked a 30-yard field goal, Anderson scored from the two, and Steve Engel and Bob Masten collaborated on a 91-yard kickoff return as CU stormed to a 31-19 half-time lead.

A total of 16 new Liberty bowl records were set in the long and exciting afternoon in Memphis Memorial Stadium before ABC-TV sports cameras.

1970 LIBERTY BOWL

Tulane 17, Colorado 3

Dec. 12, 1970 at Memphis, Tennessee

Hungry Tulane ruined Colorado's return to the Liberty Bowl and the Green Wave walked off with a stunning 17-3 upset of the Buffs as 44,640 fans shivered in the cold at Memphis Memorial Stadium.

Colorado, playing without injured quarterback Jimmy Bratten, and going with soph Paul Arendt, mounted little offense and fell to the emotional Tulane effort. CU had come into the game only 6-4, but had upset powers Penn State and Sugar Bowl-bound Air Force during the season.

CU got only a 33-yard field goal from Dave Haney and managed only 175 yards in total offense after leading the Big Eight with a per-game average of almost 425 yards.

Tulane's David Abercrombie returned a second half kickoff 66 yards and scored himself on runs of two and four yards to cap drives that broke a 3-3 halftime tie and sent Tulane to its win over the Buffaloes. Linebacker Rick Kingrea set up the second tally with a 44-yard interception return off Arendt in the final period.

1972 GATOR BOWL

Auburn 24, Colorado 3

Dec. 30, 1972 at Jacksonville, Florida

Auburn, an 11-point underdog to Colorado, took command in the second period and went on to beat the Buffs, 24-3, in the 28th Gator Bowl Classic before 71,114 fans.

It was 17-0 in favor of the Tigers before CU got on the board with just 7:31 left in the game on a Freddie Lima field goal. Auburn shut off the fearsome Colorado rushing attack with just 63 yards in 29 attempts and forced Buff quarterback Ken Johnson to the air.

Auburn, sixth-ranked in the nation, took it to Colorado by capitalizing on two CU fumbles and two pass thefts. Johnson, who had directed Colorado to an 8-3 season coming into the game, hit on 17 of 29 passes for 169 yards, but the Buff running game was shut down.

Garner Jett's 27-yard field goal and a fumble recovery at the Colorado 16-yard line a minute later led to the 10-0 halftime lead for Auburn. Then, in the second half, wingback Mike Fuller hit tight end Rob Spivey with a 22-yard TD pass and holder Dave Beck threw a 16-yard TD pass off a fake field goal to Dan Nugent to ice the win.

1971 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Colorado 29, Houston 17

Dec. 31, 1971 at Houston, Texas

Colorado sophomore tailback Charlie Davis returned to his home town and ripped host Houston for a whopping 202 yards on 37 carries as the Buffs whipped the Cougars, 29-17, in the 13th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Classic at the Astrodome.

Davis scored twice and was a one-man show in the first half. CU took a 23-14 lead into the dressing rooms thanks to a 27-yard run by Davis, a TD pass of five yards from Ken Johnson to Larry Brunson, a 32-yard field goal by J. B. Dean, and another TD run by Davis.

Houston, behind the running of Robert Newhouse, roared back to narrow the margin to 23-17 with 2:16 left in the third quarter as Mike Terrell kicked a 29-yard field goal. Newhouse, who lost out to Davis for the game's MVP Award, had 168 yards on 35 carries and also scored twice.

Safety John Stearns was a Colorado hero in the fourth period, running with his faked punt from his own 10 to his 22 for a crucial first down after Houston had turned the momentum around and narrowed the margin to just a touchdown on the Terrell field goal. Stearns then knocked down a sure TD pass on fourth down with the Cougs at the CU nine. The Buffs turned that one around and marched for the clinching tally with 3:48 left in the game.

1975 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Texas 38, Colorado 21

Dec. 27, 1975 at Houston, Texas

Colorado rolled up a commanding 21-7 halftime lead over Texas, then kicked it away as the Longhorns rallied to a 38-21 win in the 17th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in the Houston Astrodome before 52,748.

In the first half, Colorado rolled up a commanding 16-5 edge in first downs, an edge of 225-89 in total yards, and a 48-20 edge in plays to go ahead 21-7. CU fullback Terry Kunz scored on a one-yard dive with 2:29 left in the first period, quarterback David Williams threw a four-yard TD pass to Dave Logan with 12:42 left in the second period, then added a 25-yard scoring aerial to huge end Don Hasselbeck with 0:24 left to play to make the 21-7 margin.

But Kunz opened the second half with a costly fumble at the Buff 34 and Texas halfback Jimmy Walker scored eight plays later to make it 21-13. UT end Tim Campbell blocked a CU punt a minute later and roared 25 yards for the TD. A two-point conversion pass from quarterback Marty Akins to fullback Earl Campbell tied the game at 21-21 with 10:56 left in the third quarter.

Texas kicker Russell Erxleben's record 55-yard field goal with 6:25 left in the third period gave the Longhorns a 24-21 lead. Fleet Johnny Jones scored from four yards out with 3:15 left in the third period giving the Horns a 31-21 lead that stood up.

1985 FREEDOM BOWL

Washington 20, Colorado 17

Dec. 30, 1985 at Anaheim, California

Washington staved off a pair of late Colorado rallies and held on to defeat the Buffaloes, 20-17, in the second annual Freedom Bowl before 30,961 in attendance at Anaheim Stadium.

It was close throughout. Washington took a 3-0 lead late in the first quarter on a 30-yard field goal by Jeff Jaeger. The Buffs came back to take what would be their only lead of the night early in the second quarter. Fullback Anthony Weatherspoon scored from a yard out and Larry Eckel added the point after to give CU a 7-3 lead. The Huskies' David Toy scored on a three-yard run and Jaeger added the point with only 30 seconds left in the first half to put Washington up 10-7 at intermission.

Eckel tied the score at 10-10 with a 33-yard field goal with 8:41 left in the third quarter, but Washington countered three minutes later with a one-yard scoring run by Tony Covington for a 17-10 lead. Jaeger added an 18-yard field goal three seconds into the fourth quarter to make it 20-10.

All-American punter Barry Helton threw out of punt formation to Jon Embree for a dazzling 31-yard touchdown pass and Eckel added the extra point with 11:05 to go to pull CU to within three. The Buffs would get no closer, but had the ball at inside the Husky 10 in the final five minutes. Halfback Mike Marquez fumbled the ball at the two ending the drive, although television replays indicated the ground may have caused the fumble.

The game capped CU's turnaround season, as the Buffs went from 1-10 the previous year to 7-5 and captured the NCAA's most-improved team honor.

Marquez led the Buffs with 80 yards on 10 carries, while Chris Chandler led the Huskies with 72 yards on seven tries. It was a defensive game, with each team committing just a single turnover, but Washington was penalized 13 times for 88 yards on the evening.

1977 ORANGE BOWL

Ohio State 27, Colorado 10

Jan. 1, 1977 at Miami, Florida

Colorado returned to the Orange Bowl as Big Eight co-champions for the first time since 1961, but Ohio State's defense and an injury to CU middle guard Charlie Johnson in the first half killed CU's chances in a 27-10 Buckeye win before 65,537.

Colorado opened with a bang, getting ahead 10-0 in the first period on a 26-yard field goal by Mark Zetterberg with 5:56 elapsed, then a touchdown pass of 11 yards from soph quarterback Jeff Knapple to wingback Emery Moorehead with 3:43 left.

But Johnson went down with a broken ankle, and Ohio State coach Woody Hayes substituted fleet Rod Gerald at quarterback for the often-sacked Tom Pacenta and the Buckeye offense came alive in the second period.

OSU tailback Jeff Logan rambled for a 36-yard touchdown up the middle as the first period came to an end, then the Bucks tied it on a 28-yard field goal by Tom Skladany with 9:29 left in the half.

Ohio State put on a 99-yard drive capped by fullback Pete Johnson's three-yard run with 0:20 left in the half to take a 17-10 lead which stood up until Skladany added another 20-yard field goal with 2:30 left in the third quarter to make it 20-10 in favor of OSU.

The Buffs could not do anything offensively in the second half, and a pass interception at the Colorado 28 with 3:08 left led to the final Ohio State touchdown and the winning margin of 27-10.

Brigham Young's only lead of the game came when it counted the most, as Jason Chaffetz' 35-yard field goal with 2:33 remaining in the fourth quarter rallied the Cougars to a 20-17 win over Colorado in the fifth annual Freedom Bowl.

The Buffs turned a BYU turnover into seven points just two-and-one-half minutes into the game, as Eric Bieniemy scored from one yard out to cap a six-play, 49-yard drive. Pat Blottiaux's PAT kick put CU up 7-0, but the Cougars tied the score some seven minutes later on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Sean Covey to Mike Salido.

Bieniemy's second touchdown of the game, also from a yard out, enabled CU to forge a 14-7 lead with 1:04 left in the half. The margin stood at halftime.

The Buffs blew several scoring opportunities, twice penetrating the BYU 20 and coming away empty. In the meantime, Ty Detmer's 14-yard scoring strike to Chuck Cutler knotted the score at 14 after three quarters. Blottiaux made good on a 19-yard field goal early in the fourth to give CU its last lead (17-14), but Chaffetz countered with a 31-yarder before nailing the game winner in the final minutes.

Colorado outgained the Cougars, 337-320, on the evening, but its on mistakes and penalties (nine, the most in CU bowl history), added up to the fifth straight bowl loss by the Buffaloes.

1986 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Baylor 21, Colorado 9

Dec. 31, 1986 at Houston, Texas

Baylor turned two Colorado turnovers into touchdowns and then thwarted two Buff scoring threats in the fourth quarter as the Bears defeated CU, 21-9, before 40,470 in attendance at Rice Stadium in the 28th Bluebonnet Bowl.

Baylor drew first blood with 3:34 left in the first quarter on a one-yard plunge by Derrick McAdoo. Colorado countered two drives later with a 36-yard field goal by Dave DeLine to slice the lead to 7-3 early in the second stanza. But the Buffs turned the ball over on their own eight and it took Baylor three plays to score to extend the lead to 14-3, which stood at intermission.

CU turned the ball over on its second play from scrimmage in the second half and McAdoo scored again from a yard out to put Baylor up 21-3. The Buffs finally put six on the board late in the quarter on a 31-yard touchdown run by Mark Hatcher, but CU couldn't convert the two and score remained 21-9 in favor of the Bears.

The Buffs twice had the ball deep in Baylor territory in the fourth quarter, but the Bear defense held as CU couldn't convert either time on fourth down. In a game dominated by defense, Baylor outgained Colorado 279-194. Each team had 12 first downs, and the Buff defense held the Bears to over 200 yards under its per-game average for the season.

1990 ORANGE BOWL

Notre Dame 21, Colorado 6

Jan. 1, 1990 at Miami, Florida

Fullback Anthony Johnson's second touchdown run of the game late in the fourth quarter put an end to Colorado's undefeated season and national championship hopes as Notre Dame defeated the Buffaloes, 21-6.

Colorado came into the game with an 11-0 record and its first-ever No. 1 national ranking. The Buffs appeared headed to the national championship in the first half, as CU dominated the line of scrimmage in gaining 186 first-half yards, but couldn't convert on three golden scoring opportunities. Instead of leading 17- or 21-0 at halftime, the Buffs found themselves in a scoreless deadlock, and that thanks to Gary Howe's block of a Notre Dame field goal attempt at the intermission gun.

The Irish took control of the game in the third quarter, using a two-yard scoring run by Johnson and a 35-yard touchdown run on a reverse by Raghib Ismail to take a 14-0 lead midway through the period. Colorado sliced the lead to 14-6 on a spectacular 39-yard run by Darian Hagan to close the quarter, but the PAT kick sailed wide by Ken Culbertson, leaving the Buffs eight points back.

Johnson's second touchdown, a seven-yard effort, culminated a mammoth 17-play, 82-yard drive which ate up almost nine minutes of the clock. The Buffs got the ball back with 1:32 left in the game, and after Mike Pritchard returned the Irish kickoff 28 yards to the CU 41, could not get anything going prior to time running out.

1991 BLOCKBUSTER BOWL

Alabama 30, Colorado 25

Dec. 28, 1991 at Miami, Florida

Jay Barker threw three touchdown passes and David Palmer scored twice to lead No. 8 Alabama to a 30-25 victory over No. 13 Colorado in the second annual Blockbuster Bowl.

Palmer scored the game's first points on a 52-yard punt return six minutes into the first quarter. The Buffaloes tied the score at 7-7 late in the quarter on a one-yard run by Scott Phillips, which was set up a Ron Woolfork blocked punt. Ted Johnson tackled Martin Houston in the endzone for a safety early in the second quarter, and then the teams traded field goals to enable CU to take a 12-10 lead at halftime.

Barker hooked up with Siran Stacy for a 13-yard touchdown play in the third quarter, only to see the Buffs come back 18 seconds later on a 62-yard scoring strike from Darian Hagan to Michael Westbrook. Barker added a 12-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Lee later in the quarter to give the Crimson Tide a 23-19 lead after three quarters. Barker and Palmer connected on a five-yard TD pass with 8:10 left in the game to put Alabama ahead 30-19, but the Buffs cut the lead to five on a 13-yard pass from Hagan to Charles Johnson with 3:30 left.

Colorado got the ball back with 1:49 left and drove to the 'Bama 33 yard line before being stopped on a fourth-and-one play with 40 seconds left. Alabama outgained CU, 307-199, running more plays (81-60) and holding on to the ball for 38:10. The game marked the debut of CU's new one-back, pass-oriented offense.

1991 ORANGE BOWL

Colorado 10, Notre Dame 9

Jan. 1, 1991 at Miami, Florida

In an Orange Bowl where there was no shortage of heroes for Colorado, the Buffaloes toppled Notre Dame, 10-9, enabling the school to claim its first-ever national championship in football. CU overcame two key injuries in rallying in the second half for the victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Buffaloes drew first blood on a 22-yard field goal by Jim Harper three minutes into the second quarter. Notre Dame came right back, marching 62 yards in nine plays, with Ricky Watters scoring from two yards out. The score remained at 6-3, however, as CU's Ronnie Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Just prior to halftime, CU lost the services of quarterback Darian Hagan (knee injury) and outside linebacker Kanavis McGhee (shoulder). Both missed the remainder of the game.

Hentrich booted a 24-yard field goal early in the second half to extend the Irish lead to 9-3. Charles S. Johnson took over at quarterback for the Buffs, with Notre Dame stopping CU cold on its first possession of the second half. On the first play of the next Notre Dame drive, Chad Brown forced Watters to fumble, with Paul Rose, subbing for McGhee, making the recovery.

Johnson, his feet now wet, coolly directed the Buffaloes to the go-ahead touchdown. Eric Bieniemy's one-yard touchdown run and Jim Harper's extra point kick late in the third quarter rallied CU into the lead. The Buffalo defense then held Notre Dame in check, as the Irish held on to the ball for only less than four minutes the rest of the game, mustering only 35 yards of total offense after CU went on top.

Colorado's road to the national championship wasn't without a late scare. Notre Dame's Raghib Ismail broke loose on a punt return with less than a minute remaining, appearing to run 91 yards for a score, but CU's Tim James was clipped on the play, nullifying the gain.

Bieniemy rushed for a game-high 86 yards on 28 carries, with Johnson earning the MVP honor, completing five of six passes for 80 yards. The win, which gave CU an 11-1-1 record for the season, also snapped a seven-game CU bowl losing streak.

1993 FIESTA BOWL

Syracuse 26, Colorado 22

Jan. 1, 1993 at Phoenix, Arizona

Kirby Dar Dar's 100-yard kickoff return at the end of the third quarter proved to be the winning points as the No. 6 Syracuse Orangemen defeated the No. 10 Colorado Buffaloes in the 22nd annual Fiesta Bowl.

A defensive battle in the first half saw Colorado go into intermission with a 7-6 lead, as the teams combined for just 226 total yards. A pair of John Biskup field goals saw the Orange take a 6-0 lead, but with 10 seconds left in the half, Kordell Stewart threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Sean Embree on fourth down, with Mitch Berger's PAT kick giving CU the slim one-point lead at the half.

The third quarter proved to be both pivotal and wild, with 29 points scored in just over a six-minute span. David Walker's 13-yard run with 6:22 left in the quarter put Syracuse back on top, 12-7, with a two-point conversion pass falling incomplete. Berger nailed a 38-yard field goal on CU's next possession to cut the lead to 12-10, but the 'Cuse went back up 19-10 on a spectacular 28-yard run by quarterback Marvin Graves. Stewart led the Buffs on an 82-yard drive in just over a minute, completing the march with a 16-yard TD pass to Charles Johnson, but Berger missed the point after and the score stood at 19-16.

Dar Dar performed his heroics on the next kickoff, rambling 100 yards as time expired in the quarter. Lamont Warren scored the day's final points on a six-yard run late in the game, with Berger again missing the PAT try. The Buffs got the ball back in the final minute, but could not muster a scoring drive.

The Buffaloes outgained the Orange, 370-265, including a 217-64 edge in the passing game. Syracuse neutralized the CU offensive attack by netting 178 yards on kickoff returns.

1993 ALOHA BOWL

Colorado 41, Fresno State 30

Dec. 25, 1993 at Honolulu, Hawaii

Rashaan Salaam rushed for 135 yards and three touchdowns to lead the No. 17 Colorado Buffaloes to a convincing 41-30 victory over the No. 24 Fresno State Bulldogs in the 12th annual Aloha Bowl.

The Buffs zoomed to a 17-0 lead, scoring on their first three possessions of the game. Salaam and James Hill scored on short touchdown runs, sandwiched around a Mitch Berger field goal, as CU went up 17-0 with 9:18 left in the half. After trading field goals, Fresno State pulled as close as it would get at intermission on a fluke play. Berger's squib kickoff was first fumbled by the Bulldogs' Jamie Christian, then recovered by Malcolm Seabron and returned 68 yards for a touchdown. The play pulled FSU to within 20-10 at halftime.

Salaam sprinted into the endzone from 40 yards out early in the second half, putting the daylight back into the CU lead (27-10). Fresno never got closer than 10 the remainder of the game.

The Buffs held Fresno State to just three rushing yards on the day, but the Bulldogs did put an all-time best of 523 passing yards on the board against CU (though 333 came after CU took the 27-10 lead). Salaam was named Colorado's Most Valuable Player for the game, while Chris Hudson was the game's MVP on defense. Hudson had seven tackles, two forced fumbles, two recoveries, a quarterback sack and a pass deflection.

THE BIG EIGHT CONFERENCE

The University of Colorado is beginning its 46th year with the conference after being accepted into the league on Dec. 1, 1947 when the Big Six Conference changed to the Big Seven.

The Big Eight Conference, the official name of the league since 1964 when the old title Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MVIAA) was dropped, ranks as one of the strongest, most well-balanced, and most successful conferences in the country. The league is entering its 87th season of competition.

Three of the present members of the Big Eight — the University of Kansas, the University of Missouri, and the University of Nebraska — helped form the original organization on Jan. 12, 1907, with the University of Iowa and Washington University of St. Louis as the other charter members.

Iowa State University, then known as Ames College, and Drake University were added in 1908 to expand to seven schools. Iowa dropped to enter the Big Ten after the 1910-11 college years.

Kansas State University, then known as Kansas State College of Applied Science and Agriculture, was admitted in 1913. Grinnell (Iowa) College joined in 1919 and the University of Oklahoma in 1920. Oklahoma State University, then known as Oklahoma A&M College, withdrew from the Southwest Conference in 1925 to increase the conference to an all-time high 10 teams.

In a meeting at Lincoln, Neb., on May 19, 1928, six of the seven state institutions — Oklahoma A&M was the exception — formally organized a separate conference, MVIAA or the Big Six Conference. Colorado's addition made it the Big Seven and Oklahoma State rejoined its old MVIAA mates as a member on June 1, 1957, to change the name to the Big Eight.

The Big Eight solidified its national reputation last spring, as on February 25, 1994, it was announced that Baylor, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech accepted invitations to join the conference. The new 12-team league will be known as the Big 12, commencing in the fall of 1996, with divisional play in football and men's and women's basketball. Colorado will be a member of one division, which includes Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri and Nebraska, while the other six will compete in a second division.

The faculty athletic representatives (persons of professional rank who do not receive pay primarily for services rendered in connection with athletics or physical education) at each institution serve as the policy-directing group of the conference. The directors of athletics serve as the operating body or administrative agency, with the senior women's administrators also playing a key role.

Carl James is in his 14th year as the Commissioner of the Big Eight. The conference headquarters are located at 104 W. Ninth Street, Suite 408, in Kansas City, Mo. The office telephone number is 816/471-5088.

Prentice Gautt is the senior associate commissioner and Tim Allen is the assistant commissioner, while Jeff Bollig handles the service bureau. John McClintock is the supervisor of football officials.

The Colorado Football Network originates in Denver with KOA-Radio (850am) feeding the broadcast to 21 radio stations in the Rocky Mountain region.

85 KOA
NEWSRADIO

CU and KOA are entering the fourth year of a five-year contract, as the 50,000-watt Denver station and the Buffs were reunited in 1985. KOA did the CU broadcasts from 1940 until 1982. This is the third contract between CU and KOA since 1985, as the first two were three-year agreements.

Larry Zimmer handles the play-by-play chores with Kent Groshong providing the color commentary on the broadcasts. In addition, former CU All-American Bobby Anderson handles both pre- and postgame shows.

Zimmer is in his 21st season of doing CU football, as he was the voice of the Buffs from 1971 to 1981. A graduate of the University of Missouri, Zimmer previously had done play-by-play for four years (1966-69) at the University of Michigan (for both football and basketball). He also does play-by-play on Denver Bronco broadcasts, teaming with former CU All-American Dave Logan. Zimmer also was selected the Sportscaster-of-the-Year by the Colorado Broadcasting Association in 1988, 1990 and 1991. Groshong is in his 10th season providing the color with Zimmer, and has been familiar with CU athletics for over 15 years. He was the sports director at KBOL in Boulder from 1976 to 1981 and is a graduate of Butler (Ind.) University.

KOA also originates the Bill McCartney Talk Show, heard Wednesdays at 6:00 p.m. during the season. The show, which is originated from the Clarion Harvest House in Boulder, goes out on the entire network and solicits callers from around the state.

COLORADO TELEVISION NETWORK

NEWS4
COLORADO

The University of Colorado and KCNC-TV will enter their 11th straight year together in one of the most unique television arrangements in college football. The Buffaloes are one of very few teams to have their games produced and shown by a major network affiliate.

In addition to airing "The Bill McCartney Show," the NBC affiliate (Channel 4 in Denver) will also originate at least five broadcasts this fall of CU games, both home and away. KCNC started to produce CU games live in 1985, and the station has done 42 such broadcasts since that season. It's been a good omen when KCNC has been on hand, as the Buffaloes are 36-5-1 in games produced by the station.

Another unique part of the CU-KCNC relationship has been when KCNC cannot televise the game live (usually due to starting times or College Football Association conflicts), the station farms the game out to KTVD (Channel 20) in Denver, or has shown the game on a tape delayed basis. In 1993, the average rating was a 13.0 with a 40 share, both very healthy numbers.

Les Shapiro will handle the television play-by-play for the fifth straight season. Shapiro is KCNC's main sports anchor on the 5 and 10 p.m. news, which is rated number one in both time periods. Dave Logan is entering his 10th year as color analyst, as the former CU All American also is the host of McCartney's TV show. Logan was selected Sportscaster-of-the-Year by the Colorado Broadcasting Association in 1992. Mark McIntosh is in his seventh year as the station's chief CU reporter and sideline reporter on broadcasts.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA CREDENTIALS for covering athletic events at the University of Colorado can be obtained by writing the Athletic Media Relations Office two weeks in advance of the scheduled contest. Requests which are approved will either be mailed or left at the will call window (located between gates 4 and 5 at Folsom Field, just off Colorado Avenue. Coverage of all CU athletic events dictate approval of press credentials for Colorado media outlets; radio and television stations must cover practice, the Big Four Huddle, and/or get postgame tape on a regular basis to qualify for credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS will be issued only to officially recognized media outlets and/or individuals on special assignment. Only working photographers will be allowed on the sidelines. Photographers must have their passes displayed at all times on the sidelines, and must remain outside the 25-yard lines on both sides of the field. Due to the constraints of Folsom Field's sidelines, a limit of 25 field photo passes will be permitted for members of the media which cover the visiting team.

FAX SERVICE is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please contact the Athletic Media Relations Office either in advance or on the day of the game.

TELEPHONE SERVICES are available on a first-come, first-served basis. If you need a telephone for your own use, it's suggested that you contact the campus office of U.S. West (303/492-5194, ask for Marianne Ashworth, or 787-0225, ask for Ginger Florence) to install a line. U.S. West will contact the Athletic Media Relations Office for the seat location for installation.

VISITING RADIO personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Athletic Media Relations Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. Once permission is granted in writing, the station is responsible for making its own arrangements with U.S. West (Ginger Florence, 787-0225). U.S. West will contact the Athletic Media Relations Office for booth assignment. Spotters and/or statisticians are available upon request (please give the Athletic Media Relations Office at least 72 hours before the event).

PRESS BOX SERVICES include play-by-play and statistical highlights at the end of each period. Full statistical facts and figures along with quotes from coaches and players will be available following the contest. The media will be escorted to the locker rooms following the event for postgame interviews. An informal luncheon will be served in the Press Box starting two hours prior to kickoff.

HANDICAP ACCESS . . . There is now elevator access to the Folsom Field press box facility. An elevator was installed this past summer, and is located at the north end of Balch Fieldhouse.

NO SMOKING POLICY . . . There is a no smoking policy in Folsom Field, including the press box, to conform with University of Colorado policy concerning smoking on campus. Those members of the media who do smoke will be directed to those areas of the stadium where smoking is permitted.

PARKING passes are limited. The media must request parking along with their credentials request. Media outlets covering the University of Colorado on a regular basis will have first priority.

FOLSOM FIELD is located in the University of Colorado campus at the corner of Colorado Ave. and Folsom St. Driving time from Denver's Stapleton Airport is approximately 45 minutes via the Denver-Boulder Turnpike (U.S. 36). The Press Box is located on the west side of the stadium, and the entrance for the media is on the west side of the field through Gate No. 1. The press box phone numbers are 303/492-5626 and 492-3209.

The University of Colorado has been cited for "Outstanding Press Box Working Services" in 1982, 1987 and 1992 by the Football Writers Association of America. (Schools are eligible to be honored once every five years.)

MEDIA SERVICES

Colorado

Press Luncheons: Bill McCartney will hold Monday press conferences starting Sept. 5 through Nov. 21 in the Dal Ward Center. Lunch is served at 11:30 a.m., with McCartney starting the conference at Noon.

Big Four Huddle: A regional college football luncheon is held Tuesdays (11 a.m. to 1 p.m.) at Brooklyn's in Denver, and includes telephone and in-person interviews with coaches and players from four area colleges: CU, Colorado State, Air Force and Wyoming. All members of the media are invited to attend.

Video Highlights: Colorado football highlights can be obtained through Mark McIntosh or John Allen of KCNC-TV in Denver (303/830-6321).

Weekly Releases: Colorado's weekly news release will be available through a FAX network that is now being utilized by most major conferences. Weekly mailings are limited but can be requested, but media members can call one number and access a menu that will provide information on demand. For further details, call the CU Athletic Media Relations office at 303/492-5626.

Big Eight

Monday Coaches Briefing: The Big Eight offers Monday telephonic press conferences throughout the year. Media interested in participating should call the league office at 816/471-5088. McCartney is on weekly at 11:05 a.m. mountain time, and the conference runs every Monday from Aug. 29 through Nov. 14.

Video Highlights: The conference offers a satellite highlights package weekly during the season. The time is 1-1:30 p.m. mountain time on Galaxy 4, Transponder 7, Frequency 3,840 Mhz, Standard Video, 6.2, 6.8 Audio. The service is available every Tuesday from Aug. 30 through Nov. 15. (Trouble number: 402/472-2413).

Weekly Releases: All Big Eight schools and the league office will again offer a convenient way to obtain their news releases this year. Through Info-Connection of Atlanta, Ga., releases, statistics, game notes, schedules and other information will be available through a "Fax-on-Demand" Network. This system will allow the media to retrieve information easily and instantaneously, rather than delayed via the mail service. Everything can be done through the handset of a FAX machine; as a result, schools and the league office have for the most part eliminated the weekly mailings. To participate, media members can contact the CU Athletic Media Relations office or the Big Eight Conference office at 816/471-5088.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

- Media representatives desiring access to players, coaches and facilities must obtain the consent of the Athletic Media Relations Office.
- All practices are open to the local media, as well as to any member of a national media outlet who is not connected with a future opponent on the team schedule. Visiting media must receive authorization to attend practice through the Athletic Media Relations Office, which in turn will seek approval from the Head Coach.
 - Occasionally, there will be times when certain plays and formations are not to be taped, filmed, photographed or reported. In addition, no microphones at any time can be placed in a position where they can pick up the cadence from the line of scrimmage. Violation of this will result in the revocation of all privileges.
 - Members of the media are not to attempt to talk or interview the players during the daily interview moratorium period (2:15 p.m. through the end of practice). In addition, media members are to be on the sidelines only and are not to be in the end zones or on the playing field at any practice (either in the stadium or on the lower grass practice fields).
 - Live television shots must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations Office and the Head Coach in advance.
- The following are times when football players may be interviewed (in season):

9:00 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday After Practice Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday (—2:00 p.m. after return to standard time)

The cutoff point for player interviews is 2:00 p.m. the Thursday prior to the game. Any exceptions must be approved by the Head Coach (including any interviews on the road: newspaper, radio or television). Coaches are available for interviews Monday through Friday noon, then afterwards at their discretion. All are available following games. Television interviews can take place between 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. and following practice. Photographers are allowed to shoot practice footage, as long as they follow the guidelines of 2A above.

No posed pictures (either for newspapers or television) are to be taken between 2:00 p.m. and the end of practice.

 - Exceptions to any of the above must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations Office and the Head Coach. Exceptions will be limited; one is the filming of head shots and brief interviews for national, regional or local television games (usually required the Friday before the game).
- The lockerroom will be closed to the media during preseason practice, game week and spring football. It will be open following all games and scrimmages. When the lockerroom is closed, nearby meeting rooms and hallways are utilized for interviews.
 - A member of the AMR Office will be on hand to help arrange interviews following practice. Members of the media are to advise the AMR Office that they will need to conduct interviews following practice (same-day notification at practice is fine).
- The training room, the equipment room and the weight room are AT ALL TIMES off-limits to the media. The only exception to this rule is if a special feature involving one of the areas is requested; approval must be sought in advance from the AMR Office and the proper department head.
- The Head Coach will hold a Monday Noon press luncheon to discuss the previous Saturday's game and the upcoming week's game. He can also be heard on a pair of conference calls (Mondays at 11:05 a.m. MT on the Big Eight Conference call-in, and Tuesdays at Noon MT on the Big Four Huddle call-in). The opponent coach is also available at the Big Four Huddle session.
- Sunday is the standard day off for players and coaches. Any requests of their time on Sunday will be handled on an individual basis through the AMR Office.
- Road practices are open only to members of the media which cover CU on a regular basis, as well as any members of the national media. The Head Coach is available for interviews with opponent media based on his personal discretion, as is their admittance to any road practice.
- It is the request of the University of Colorado football program that players are not to be called at home, unless permission has been granted by the player himself or through the director of media relations. Even though most phone numbers are generally listed in directory information, players are allowed to decline interviews when they have been reached at home when an interview has not been approved.

DENVER-BOULDER METRO AREA FACTS

- The Denver-Boulder metropolitan area is the 22nd largest (1.85 million) in the United States, according to the population statistics in the 1990 census. Denver is the 26th largest city in the census, with a population of 468,000.
- Denver, located just 25 miles southeast of the University of Colorado-Boulder campus, is the largest city in the Big Eight Conference area. Oklahoma City is 29th in the country, followed by Kansas City (31st) and St. Louis (34th) in the top 40.
- Boulder is not classified as a suburb of Denver; it's nestled in its own valley at the foothills of the rugged Rocky Mountains. Thus, CU students and employees can live and work with the knowledge that they're in the unique situation of being "close to a big city, yet far enough away."
- Called the "Mile High City" because it is exactly 5,280 feet above sea level, Denver's central location in the United States provides convenient access for the entire country. Denver currently utilizes Stapleton International Airport, which is the fourth busiest airport in the country (serving almost 200 U.S. cities and over two dozen foreign cities). The new Denver International Airport is scheduled to open this year and will improve the service now available.
- Denver boasts three major league teams: the Broncos in the NFL, the Nuggets in the NBA, and the expansion Colorado Rockies in the National League (baseball). There are only six other colleges in addition to the University of Colorado that are unique in the fact that they are not located within a city, yet have three major league teams for their liking within a 25-mile drive.
- Boulder is a sports-oriented town, and was named the No. 1 outdoor sports town by Outdoor Magazine in 1990. It is home of the Bolder Boulder, the second largest 10K race in the nation (with over 35,000 runners and walkers every Memorial Day). Boulder is also the home and training ground for several of the world's Olympic-class athletes.

- As for the climate, there are over 320 days of sunshine annually in Colorado. It is not unusual to often have 60 and 70 degree days occasionally during the winter months, and the humidity hovers at a low percentage virtually year 'round. The large snowfalls are usually confined to the mountain areas, providing the base for the dozens of Colorado ski resorts and its number one economic resource.
